5 Brian Dawkins

Would Brian Dawkins be a Clemson Tiger if he was not a high school teammate of Patrick Sapp? Clemson's last signee of 1991 is one of the top defensive backs in the ACC and one of the keys to Clemson's 1994 defense.

7 Butkus Candidates

Clemson's reputation as the top school in the nation for producing linebackers received another enhancement in August when both Tim Jones and Wardell Rouse were named to the Butkus Award pre-season Watch List.

49 Happy Birthday Tiger

The Clemson Tiger turns 40 this year. The loveable mascot has been a major ingredient in the color and pageantry that surrounds a Clemson football weekend. Turn to page 49 to see a list of the former Tigers and some of their more interesting reflections.

51 Warren Forney

Clemson's junior defensive end hopes he can receive as many awards for his on-field performance in 1994 as he received for his off-field accomplishments in 1993. He won Clemson's Sullivan Award for service to others last year, one of the top awards presented to a Clemson student.

61 Reggie Herring

Clemson's inside linebacker coach got his break into coaching at a very early age thanks to two-time Super Bowl Champion Coach Jimmy Johnson. Herring relates that you need more than an early break to make it in the college coaching profession.

73 Donnell Woolford

Chicago Bears cornerback Donnell Woolford earned All-Pro status last year for the first time in his NFL career. Many of the basics that have led to his success as a pro were learned as a collegian at Clemson.

76 The Textile Bowl

This week's game matches Clemson and N.C. State in the 14th annual Textile Bowl. The Textile industry plays a major part in the economics of both North Carolina and South Carolina. The industry also plays a key role in the educational process at both institutions taking part in today's football game.

78 Academic All-ACC

Clemson had 57 student-athletes chosen to the ACC Academic Honor Roll for the 1993-94 school year.

Today's Program features Clemson's last player signed in 1992, Clemson's Sullivan Award winner and a former Tiger who is an All-Pro defensive back with the Chicago Bears.

112 Tiger Grads in Coaching

For the second week in a row Clemson's opposition will be coached by a Clemson graduate. N.C. State mentor Mike O'Cain is the only Clemson grad who serves as a Division I head coach, but there are several other Tiger grads who are also serving in the profession.

Today's Game

by Tim Bourret

The 14th Annual Textile Bowl

Clemson and N.C. State will do battle in the 14th annual Textile Bowl when the two teams meet in Death Valley this afternoon. Clemson has a 9-4 advantage in the series since the game took on the Textile Bowl title in 1981. As you can see from other pages in this program, the Textile Industry has a very important effect on the economy of North Carolina and South Carolina and the two schools competing in today's game.

Many of the Textile Bowl contests have been close, including last year when Clemson won 20-14. Clemson held a 20-0 lead after three quarters thanks to an offense that gained 250 yards rushing, but had to hang on in the last minute to gain the victory. Tim Jones broke up each of the Wolfpack's last two pass plays of the game at the Clemson goal line over the last 12 seconds of the contest to preserve the Tiger victory. Jones led Clemson with 11 stops, an interception and three pass deflections in one of his finest overall games since coming to Clemson.

Overall, Clemson has a 39-22-1 lead in the series with N.C. State, including a 16-8 advantage in games played at Clemson and a 13-8 lead in Death Valley. N.C. State's eight wins in Memorial Stadium rank second to Maryland's 10 victories. Clemson has won four of the last five meetings between the two teams, including each of the last three played at Clemson.

Tigers Face Grad, Again

For the second straight week Clemson will face a Clemson graduate when the N.C. State Wolfpack comes to Tigertown today. In the season opener last week, Bobby Johnson, a 1973 Clemson grad, brought in Furman and the Tigers gained a 27-6 victory. Now, Mike O'Cain, Clemson's team MVP in 1976, brings in N.C. State in week 2.

This is the first time in history that Clemson has faced a team coached by a Clemson graduate in consecutive weeks. In fact, it is just the second and third times in history that Clemson has faced a team coached by a Clemson graduate. The only other time took place last year when O'Cain brought N.C. State to Death Valley. The first 51 years of Death Valley, 1942-92, no Clemson graduate coached the opposition, or the Clemson team for that matter. The only Clemson graduate in history to serve as Clemson's Head Football Coach is Shack Shealy, Clemson class of '00, who coached Clemson during the 1904 season. For more on Tigers in college coaching turn to page 112.

N.C. State Update

Like Clemson, N.C. State enters today's game coming off a victory in its opening game that featured an outstanding defense and a consistent rushing attack. The two teams were within 10 yards of each other in terms of total offense (387-377) and controlled the clock over 36 minutes.

N.C. State had a rare Thursday evening opening game, a 20-15 victory over Bowling Green of the Mid-American Conference. Terry Harvey, who has experience against Clemson as a baseball pitcher and is one of the top hurlers in the ACC on the diamond with a career record of 26-8, showed his ability to hurl the football when he hit 15-23 passes for 192 yards against Bowling Green. He also ran for a score.

The top two rushing defenses in the ACC face off today in the 14th annual Textile Bowl.

Eddie Goines is a top receiver who Clemson must be aware of at all times. The senior had six catches for 106 yards and also returned four punts for 44 yards. Goines now ranks third in N.C. State history in both receptions and reception yardage. He has 114 receptions for his career and moved ahead of Haywood Jeffires (111) against Bowling Green. He also has 1833 career receiving yards and also moved ahead of Jeffires into third place in that area with his fine opener against Bowling Green.

Red-shirt freshman Carlos King was the top rusher for N.C. State with 75 yards in 14 attempts. King has outstanding credentials, having gained 3000 yards, scored 40 touchdowns and averaged an incredible 10 yards a carry over his last two years at Starmount High School in North Carolina.

Damien Covington had 11 tackles in the first game win over Bowling Green, a strong total considering the opposition took only 46 snaps from center. The native of Berlin, NJ had 133 tackles last year and 149 as a sophomore. He has 323 career tackles entering the Clemson game and now needs just 85 tackles to break Robert Abraham's N.C. State career record.

Sapp Solid Again on Opening Day

Patrick Sapp likes being the Opening Day pitcher. Each of the last two years Sapp has been outstanding in the passing efficiency department in the first game of the season. In the opener against UNLV last year Sapp hit 10-14 passes for 223 yards and two touchdowns. That computes to an efficiency rating of 235.0, the sixth best efficiency game in Clemson history.

Sapp did not crack the top 10 efficiency games against Furman, but his 7-12 performance for 106 yards with one touchdown and no interceptions computed to a 160 passing efficiency. The Clemson record for passing efficiency over the course of a season is 158. So, even if you can't relate to the passing efficiency stat, at least you know 160 must be pretty good. Among his seven completions was a 28-yard scoring pass to Antwan Wyatt.

Sapp enjoys playing on opening day.

Sapp is now 16 for 26 for 329 yards and three touchdowns against no interceptions in his two season openers. Sapp has thrown only seven interceptions in his 289 career attempts. He is first in Clemson history in interception avoidance.

Smith Productive vs. Furman

One day soon Emmitt Smith is going to be known as Emory Smith's older brother. Clemson's sophomore fullback had a productive 59 yards in 10 attempts and scored two touchdowns in Clemson's victory over Furman. Over his last four games Smith has 51 carries for 301 yards and three touchdowns. That is an average of six yards a carry, not bad for a fullback. Smith will benefit more and more from Clemson's one-back attack as the season progresses. The native of Pensacola, FL had a fine outing against N.C. State last year with 10 rushes for 42 yards.

First-Year Freshmen Outstanding

Clemson's celebrated group of freshman running backs got off to a good start against Furman. The foursome of Anthony Downs, James Jenkins, Lamont Pegues and Raymond Priester had 37 carries for 185 yards. What really made Tommy West and running backs coach Rich Bisaccia happy is that they didn't have a fumble in those 37 carries, a key reason Clemson had its first turnoverless opening game since 1988.

Downs led the way with 17-89, the most yards rushing for a Clemson freshman in his first game in 49 years. The last freshman to have that high a total in his first game was Bobby Gage, who had eight rushes for 144 yards against Presbyterian in 1945. Downs started the game, the first Tiger first-year freshman to start the season opener since 1973 when Ken Callicutt got the call. James Jenkins picked up 59 yards in 12 attempts and Lamont Pegues had 35 yards in eight carries.

Ten first-year freshmen saw action against Furman in the opener. In addition to the four freshman running backs, first-year freshman wide receivers Undre Williams, Kenya Crooks and Tony Horne all participated in the Furman game. Mark Landry was a first-year freshman who played offensive guard in the contest, Elmer Bench served as the long snapper, while Tony Plantin, a tackle, was the only first-year freshman defensive player to see action against Furman.

Battle of Stingy Defenses

Clemson's defense held Furman to -3 yards rushing and just 99 yards in total offense in its 27-6 victory in the season opener. N.C. State was just about as good, limiting Bowling Green to just 24 yards rushing and 209 yards in total offense. Clemson and N.C. State rank one-two in the ACC stats in total defense and rushing defense entering today's game.

The -3 yards rushing by Furman was the fewest by a Clemson opponent since 1990 when Long Beach State had -16 yards rushing. That was the first game of the Ken Hatfield era. So, Clemson has held a team to minus rushing yards three times in the last 12 seasons and two of them have come in a coach's debut as the Tigers' head man. The Furman game marked just the eighth time in Clemson history and just the fourth in the last 45 years that Clemson had held the opposition to negative

The 99 yards in total offense by Furman marked the first time since the season opener of 1991 that a team had failed to reach 100 yards in total offense against the Tigers. Appalachian State had just 84 yards total offense against Clemson in the first game of the 1991 season.

Darnell Stephens and Tim Jones were Clemson's leading tacklers in the game with eight stops apiece. For Stephens it was a significant contest because the eight tackles represent his career high as an outside linebacker. It tied his overall career high, as he had eight tackles as a strong safety against Duke in 1992. Stephens had two tackles for loss in the game, which tied his tackle for loss production for his entire 1993 season.

Jones saw his most extensive action since the team came back from summer vacation. He had a sprained knee in the preseason and did not work in any of Clemson's three scrimmages. But, he was ready for the Furman game and had eight tackles in just 30 plays.

Welch Outstanding vs. N.C. State

To Clemson fans of the 1970s, it seemed like Ted Brown played tailback for N.C. State for about eight years. Brown scored four touchdowns against Clemson in a game in 1975 as a freshman and he had outstanding games against the Tigers the rest of his career.

N.C. State fans must feel the same way about Clemson kicker Nelson Welch. The Tiger graduate student kicked a Clemson record five field goals and two extra points in a 29-19 Clemson victory over a 10th ranked N.C. State team in 1991 as a freshman. His 17 kick-scoring points in that game set a Clemson record.

Welch booted two more field goals against the Pack in Clemson's 20-14 win last year and is now 9-12 on field goals against N.C. State in his career. N.C. State is Welch's second favorite team. He actually has 10 field goals against Maryland in his career. Welch also has his longest career punt against N.C. State, a 70-yarder in Raleigh in 1992. That was the longest punt in the ACC that year.

Welch now has 58 career field goals in 82 attempts. He needs just five field goals to tie current Chicago Bears kicker Chris Gardocki and Obed Ariri for the Clemson career field goal record (63). Both of his field goals against Furman in this year's opener were of at least

Coach West Comments

"The most impressive thing about the Furman game was that our team was aggressive, showed good effort and did not have any turnovers on offense. You are going to win most of the time when you don't commit turnovers. Overall, we had fun playing the game. On the other hand, we had way too many penalties and our kickoff return coverage was very bad.

"Defensively, I thought Wardell Rouse played very well. He had a couple of sacks, caused a fumble, he has been one of our team leaders. I thought Darnell Stephens played well at the outside linebacker position (career high tying eight tackles), especially early in the game (4 tackles in first quarter). Our upfront guys controlled the line of scrimmage, that was important. Tim Jones played well at linebacker, especially considering he did not scrimmage in the preseason. Our secondary also played well, holding Furman to just one big play (29 yards).

"Offensively, we had a big game from Antwuan Wyatt. He only touched the ball five times, but he made the most of it (76 yards). Henry Guess played well and of course we thought the young backs did well in their first game. I was also pleased with Emory Smith, who ran hard late in the game.

"We will see the same type of team in N.C. State as we saw against Furman. Obviously N.C. State is a much more talented team, but they will be like Furman in that they will be aggressive, and will be well coached. We will have to make a lot of improvement to beat N.C. State.

"N.C. State has two good quarterbacks in Harvey and Bender. They don't mind playing either one of them. They have confidence in both players because they have a lot of experience. Every week in this league you have to prepare for a lot of weapons. Some weeks you have teams that have two good quarterbacks, other weeks it is a team with a great quarterback and great running back.

"Eddie Goines presents a problem for us. We were a little soft on our corners against Furman, but that was part of our gameplan to make them go a long way, don't give up the quick score. We are going to play a little more of a pressure defense this week.

"Mike O'Cain does a tremendous job at N.C. State. His staff has been coaching for a long time, and they were a thorn in our side in the 1980s (three straight wins over Clemson 1986-87-88). They work well together and know how to get the most out of their players.

40 yards. He is now second in Clemson history in career field goals of at least 40 yards with 18. The record is 23, held by Gardocki.

Wyatt off to Good Start

Antwuan Wyatt, Clemson wide receiver and all-purpose player, had five catches for 76 yards and a touchdown in the season opener. That was the best season opener for a Clemson wide receiver in 15 years. Perry Tuttle had six catches for 145 yards against Furman in 1979, the first game of Danny Ford's regular season career. Tuttle, like Wyatt, was a sophomore when he had those numbers against Furman. Clemson Coach Tommy West would be perfectly happy if Wyatt ended his career with numbers like the ones Tuttle had in his career (150 receptions).

Wyatt touched the ball just twice last year in 119 plays, once on a reception and once on an end-around running play. He comes from good stock, as his father, Alvin, was an All-Pro defensive back with the Buffalo Bills of the NFL in the 1960s and 1970s. Alvin Wyatt is now an assistant coach at Bethune Cookman. He and current Clemson co-offensive coordinator/receivers coach Rick Stockstill were coaches together on Bethune Cookman's team in 1983-84. Stockstill has known Antwuan since he was seven-years-old. Little did the young Wyatt know in 1983 that he would be coached by Stockstill when he got to college.

Three Freshmen Starters

Clemson started three freshmen in the opening game, the first time since 1987 that Clemson has started three freshmen on opening day. Tailback Anthony Downs got the call, the only first-year freshman to start against Furman, and the first first-year freshman to start at tailback for Clemson since 1973.

Two red-shirt freshmen offensive linemen started the Furman game, Jim Bundren (OT) and Glenn Rountree (OG). They were the first opening day freshmen offensive linemen since 1987 when Eric Harmon started the first game of the 1987 season. It was the first time Clemson started two freshman interior offensive linemen on opening day since the 1940s.

Here is a list of opening day freshmen starters since 1972, the first year freshmen were eligible under NCAA rules. An asterisk means they were red-shirt freshmen.

Brian Dawkins

By Jamie Hill

Brian Dawkins has seen his priorities change over the last two years.

As a freshman roverback, Dawkins's main focus was on deciding what player to defend or what formation to play: Do we play zone or man-to-man here?

Today, two years of playing experience and a marriage later, Dawkins has since redefined his priorities to conform to the changing constraints of his schoolwork, football and family responsibilities. On July 5, 1994, he married the former Connie Kerrin and realized that football wasn't the biggest thing in his life. "My wife is always going to be number-one. It's (marriage) slowed me down as far as going out to parties. It's made me focus on the more important things in life."

Dawkins believes his wife has given him increased motivation on the football field and actually improved his play. "It's good to have someone to come home to who will be there for me when we didn't have a good day."

His love for his wife is a driving force of motivation to go out on the field and lay it on the line. He has been a standout in the preseason and in the season opener with Furman. In one scrimmage Dawkins had five tackles for loss, an unheard of figure for a defensive back at any level. He was Clemson's top tackler in the preseason scrimmages, overall and in terms of tackles behind the line of scrimmage. Time and again Coach Tommy West would single out Dawkins as one of the top performers during the difficult preseason camp.

While Dawkins has balanced the preseason and his new lifestyle, he had to balance a third area of his life starting on August 25th of this year, the classroom. Even though he understands his first focus is to his wife, and his commitment to the Tiger football program, he still hasn't forgotten that academics are just as important to being successful.

"I do have ambitions to play in the NFL, but I understand that football isn't everything and I can't put all my books onto one shelf." When asked what his greatest accomplishment has been at Clemson, he gave an academic reply, not a football honor.

"I think my greatest accomplishment would have to be my GPA (2.8 cumulative GPA and two semesters on the academic honor roll). As a child, my father taught me that you can have all the talent in the world, but if you don't do your schoolwork then you won't be able to show it on the field. Every athlete should strive to make academics the top priority and then worry about athletics. It's important to try and get your diploma and get something out of school, not just banged up in football."

As a child growing up in Jacksonville, FL, Dawkins heeded his father's words academically, but he also followed the accomplishments of football heroes like safety Ronnie Lott, who's hard hits and aggressive style of play led the San Francisco Forty-Niners to four Super Bowl titles.

"One of the players I really looked up to was Ronnie Lott for his aggressive play and the way he went out on the field for every play. Even when he was hurt you would always see him get up and shake off the injury." Dawkins still envies Lott's ability to play the game even though he is one of the older guys in the league. Lott's consistency and durability in the NFL played an influential part in Dawkins' decision to pursue football.

Clemson fans are certainly happy that he has, because he has become a mainstay of the Clemson secondary. In his first start as a sophomore against UNLV he broke up three passes, had five tackles and was honored as ACC Defensive Back-of-the-Week. In his solid sophomore season, which included some of the most vicious hits by a Clemson player, Dawkins was named to the second-team All-ACC squad. This honor gave Dawkins a newfound confidence on the field.

"Being named to the second-team All-ACC squad as a sophomore has let me know that my playing ability has not been overlooked and that people are noticing me and my style of play. Knowing that I'm being recognized for my abilities has given me a lift going into this season and I know I will continue to get better and hopefully be a first-team All-ACC selection."

Dawkins' goals aren't too far away as he has already been named preseason first-team All-ACC by six different sports publications, including The Sporting News, Athlon and Lindy's. He has also been recognized by Athlon magazine as an honorable mention Marriage has been good for Dawkins, on and off the field.

All-American.

Football runs two-deep in the Dawkins family. Brian's older brother, Ralph Dawkins, was recruited by present Clemson assistant coach Rick Stockstill at Central Florida, but opted to go to the University of Louisville, where he became the starting fullback in 1992 and holds the career reception record (151) for the Cardinals. As with any siblings, competition is fierce, and both Brian and Ralph are no exception to the fact. Brian always viewed competing against Ralph as a big challenge.

"Ralph would always beat me and never let me win at anything we competed in and that pushed me to work harder. If it was not for him I would not be playing football. He has helped me in many ways. When I was in high school he would call me from college and he would tell me all about it. So, I felt somewhat prepared for life as a college football player. Ralph blazed a path for me."

Ralph Dawkins blazed a path to football for Brian Dawkins, but it was Patrick Sapp who blazed a path to Clemson. On a recruiting trip to Florida, Stockstill went to see future Tiger quarterback Patrick Sapp play a basketball game. But he had been viewing Dawkins with interest. Dawkins and Sapp both played football and basketball at Raines High School in Jacksonville.

Former Clemson Coach Ken Hatfield had decided that Clemson was only going to sign one safety in 1992 and Leomont Evans had already been offered a scholarship. But Stockstill suggested to Hatfield that Dawkins was worth considering. "Even though we already had signed Leomont Evans, I still kept recruiting Brian until the last week of the recruiting season when Coach Hatfield came along with me to see Patrick."

"I pointed Brian out to Coach Hatfield and told him I was recruiting him as a safety and that I knew we had already taken Leomont as our one safety, but if we had another scholarship then we needed to take Brian because he was a darn good football player." Another scholarship opened up, and after seeing his athletic ability in basketball, Hatfield gave Stockstill the go ahead to sign Dawkins to the Clemson football team.

Three years later Clemson's secondary isn't comprised of any seniors, so Dawkins is already one of Clemson's leaders on defense. "Last year I just felt like one of the guys in the secondary, but this year I've tried to be more verbal with the starters and the younger guys. They'll ask me about coverages and what we should do in a certain situations, so I feel more like a spokesperson and leader for the secondary."

It is a responsibility Dawkins enjoys, and can handle, because he is one Tiger with his priorities in order.

Brian Dawkins was Clemson's last signee in the class of 1992, but he might be the most talented of his group.

The Perfect Game Plan.

Butkus Candidates

By Tim Bourret

When you think linebackers, you think Clemson. At least that is the opinion of Lindy's Magazine who last year stated that Clemson had supplanted Penn State as Linebacker U of college football. A look at the NFL shows that Clemson has five linebackers on NFL teams, including four starters, all of whom played for the Tigers as recently as the 1990s.

This year appears to be no exception when it comes to enhancing Clemson's reputation for producing top-notch linebackers. Tim Jones and Wardell Rouse are among the 48 players on the Butkus Award Preseason Watch List released by the Downtown Athletic Club of Orlando, FL two weeks ago.

The Butkus Award is presented each year to the top linebacker in the nation as voted on by a national panel of media and NFL executives. The list will be trimmed to 10 semifinalists on October 20 and to three finalists on November 17. The winner will be announced on December 9 at the 1994 Butkus Award Ceremonies at The Walt Disney World Contemporary Resort in Orlando. Dick Butkus will make the presentation. All three finalists will be invited to attend.

Jones and Rouse continue a tradition of Clemson linebackers who have been nominated for the award. In 1990 outside linebacker Levon Kirkland was among the final five for the honor. The following year, both Kirkland and Ed McDaniel were on the pre-season Watch List and McDaniel made it to the Final Four. In 1992 Ashley Sheppard and Wayne Simmons were among the pre-season Watch List Selections.

the NFL, all of whom graduated from the Clemson program in the 1990s. The list includes Kirkland, now with the Pittsburgh Steelers, Ed McDaniel and Ashley Sheppard, both with the Minnesota Vikings, Wayne Simmons with the Green Bay Packers and John Johnson with the Cincinnati Bengals.

Jones has led Clemson in tackles each of the last two years and is trying to become the first player in Clemson history to be the team's top tackler three years in a row. The outside linebacker from Rock Hill, SC was a second-team All-ACC choice last year and has 220 career tackles, more than any other active Tiger. Another season of at least 100 tackles will put Jones among the top five tacklers in Clemson history.

Rouse is in his second year with the Tigers. The junior college transfer from Clewiston, FL, was a third-team All-ACC choice last year as an outside linebacker. He had 78 stops for the season, including 10 for negative yardage. He set a Clemson record last year for sacks in a single game by a linebacker with three against Maryland. His tackle total was the most ever for a Clemson junior college transfer in his first year with the program.

"It is an honor to be named to the Butkus list," said Jones. "To just be considered one of the top 48 linebackers in the nation is an accomplishment. In the past I thought I had played well enough to get some recognition. Now I am trying to keep the tradition of great Clemson linebackers going and it gives me incentive to go out and work very hard."

"It is a big incentive. Being a senior, you want to play hard and do what you can to help the team win on your last go-around. This will just make me play even harder now."

"Our goals are the same....help the team win. The pursuit of this award will not make me try to out-do Wardell because I know he has the same attitude as me, and that is to help Clemson win games."

"There is a great linebacker tradition at Clemson. What they did in the past was play football hard and they were successful because they gave 100 percent, and that is what we are trying to do. They practiced hard, played hard, and won football games and that is what we try to do, to keep the tradition going."

"It is an honor that people think highly of you to put you on this list," said Rouse. "It makes you feel good and makes you want to work harder to prove yourself and to earn the award."

"I look at it as an honor to play beside Tim Jones. He helps me out in a lot of ways so it will not be a competition between us at all. This award will not make us look at who had more tackles or anything like that because we both want the same thing, and that is to help the team win. If we don't win games at Clemson, neither one of us is going to win any award."

"The Clemson linebackers of the last few years set the ground rules for us and now it is our turn to keep the tradition going. We want to perform well so younger players will look at what we did and work hard to keep the tradition going. There is no pressure to be as good or better than any other CU linebackers, we just want to go out and do what we can to help Clemson win."

"It is great to see both Tim Jones and Wardell Rouse on the Butkus Watch List," said Clemson Coach Tommy West. "Both are deserving candidates. It is an achievement that adds to our tradition of outstanding linebackers at Clemson."

"We also have two other outstanding senior linebackers in Mike Barber and Darnell Stephens who were not on the list, but I think they have a chance to play in the NFL eventually. We already have five linebackers currently in the NFL who have graduated from this program over the last four years. I wonder how many programs in the country can make that claim, and it could rise significantly next year."

Clemson's linebacker tradition goes back to the forties when the late "Dumb-Dumb" Wyndham terrorized opponent offenses and helped Clemson to undefeated seasons in 1948 and 1950. Jeff Davis was the top tackler and team captain of Clemson's National Championship team of 1981. He went on to be the captain and leading tackler for four years with the Tampa Bay Bucs. And, one of Davis's teammates in 1981, Johnny Rembert, had a nine-year NFL career that included an All-Pro season with the New England Patriots in 1989.

Tim Jones has led Clemson in tackles each of the last two years.

Rouse has risen from obscurity to the Butkus list in just one year.

A funny thing happened to Phil Prince last June 9th when he was coming to Clemson from his home in Mt. Pleasant for the 45th reunion of the Class of '49, of which he is the president.

He, traveling with his wife Celeste, had to stop in Columbia for a meeting of the Clemson Board of Trustees. Prince entered the room as a life member of the board and came out as acting president of Clemson University.

Prince will serve as university head until a permanent successor is appointed to succeed Dr. Max Lennon, who resigned in February, then accepted the position as president of Eastern Foods, Inc., of Atlanta the first week of June.

The 68-year-old Prince, who retired in 1983 as senior vice president of American Express, found out that news doesn't always spread like wild fire.

The day after his appointment as acting president, he stopped for some gas at a service station in Clemson. While he was inside paying for his purchase, a woman drove up to the tank behind Prince's car.

Noticing his auto tag which said "Clemson University Trustee" the lady asked Prince when he returned to his car: "You guys appointed anybody yet?"

Prince answered: "You're looking at him."

Born in Bostic, NC (August 4, 1926), Prince spent most of his young life in Erwin, TN, where his father was a railroad conductor. He first heard of Clemson from George Fritts, a member of the 1940 Cotton Bowl team, but at that time, a line coach at Clemson. Prince was also being recruited by Tennessee and N. C. State.

He first lettered in 1944, and the second game of the season was against Georgia Tech in Atlanta. For the trip, Prince came dressed in a pair of overalls and Coach Frank Howard asked about his attire. Prince replied that was saving his only pair of slacks to wear after arriving in Atlanta.

But things would get better, even before leaving Clemson.

Returning in 1946 after a stint in service, that season and the next one were on the losing side (4-5 each time). But the Tigers hit the jackpot in 1948 when Prince and Bob Martin were co-captains, undefeated in the regular season (10-0), Southern Conference champions (5-0), ranked 11th in the nation and champions of the Gator Bowl with a 24-23 win over Missouri.

Acting President Phil Prince was a starter on Clemson's undefeated 1948 team.

Prince made one of the biggest plays of his career against South Carolina that season. Trailing 7-6 with less than two minutes to play, the story goes that a man stood up in the stands and waved a $100 bill and said: "I bet Clemson scores on the next play," and Tigers didn't even have the ball.

On the next play Prince broke through and blocked a punt. Oscar "Rabbit" Thompson scooped up the ball and ran it in for a score and a 13-7 Clemson win. That success story was followed by many more by Prince.

He rose through the ranks of Milliken and Company over nearly a 30-year period to become vice president for personnel and management development before going with American Express in 1978.

In addition to his past service on the Board of Trustees since 1989, Prince has served Clemson as a member of the Alumni National Council and as a former president of the Clemson University Foundation Board of Directors. He chaired the Campaign for Clemson fundraising drive and was a major donor to that effort. He and his wife established the Prince Presidential Scholars Endowment for academic recruiting scholarships. They have also contributed a life scholarship to the Clemson Athletic Department.

Prince is a recipient of the Alumni Association's Distinguished Service Award and the first President's Award, which recognizes outstanding service to the university. He was also presented the Clemson Medallion, the university's highest honor, in 1989. During his tenure as acting president, Prince plans to return his earnings to the school as a personal contribution to the Clemson University Foundation.

Philip Hunter Prince and Celeste Orr Prince are parents of two sons, Kevin and Jim. They also have two grandsons—the reason for moving from Pawleys Island to Mt. Pleasant. On the night he was named acting president, Prince called the four-year-old grandson, Philip Hunter Prince, II, to say that he was going to move away (to Clemson) for awhile. "I don't want you to move, grandpa," Philip said.

In the background, Prince heard his son, Jim, tell Philip: "Tell grandpapa how proud you are of him." To which Philip replied: "I'm not."

Sorry young Philip, but you're greatly outnumbered.

Phil Prince became Clemson's Acting President last Summer. The former Tiger gridder won the Clemson Medallion in 1989.

Head Coach Tommy West

Tommy West, a mainstay of a Clemson coaching staff that led the Tigers to a 69-20-4 record and six Associated Press Top 20 finishes between 1982-89, was named the Tigers Head Football Coach on November 29, 1993. During his first tour of duty with the Tigers as an outside linebacker coach, Clemson played in five bowl games (winning four) and claimed four ACC Championships, including three in a row from 1986-88.

Clemson had a 44-10-1 record against ACC competition during his era on the Tiger staff, an 81 percent winning mark. Additionally, five of those Clemson teams ranked in the top 15 in the nation in rushing defense and scoring defense, and three ranked in the top 12 in the nation in total defense.

Clemson's 1989 defense ranked fifth in the nation in total defense, rushing defense and scoring defense and West's outside linebackers had a lot to do with that success. His top four outside linebackers that year are all currently in the NFL.

Levon Kirkland (Pittsburgh Steelers), Wayne Simmons (Green Bay Packers) and John Johnson (Cincinnati Bengals) are all currently starters in the NFL, and Ashley Sheppard (Minnesota Vikings) is a top reserve. Simmons was a first-round draft pick, Kirkland and Johnson second-round selections and Sheppard was a fourth-round choice. In addition to the four players listed above, Andy Headen (New York Giants) and Terence Mack (St. Louis Cardinals) are former Tigers West helped guide to an NFL career.

West began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Tennessee (his alma mater) in 1977. He coached one year of high school football at White County High in Sparta, TN in 1978, then became an assistant at Mississippi in 1979. For the 1980 and 1981 seasons he served as an assistant coach at Appalachian State.

After his career at Clemson (1982-89), West became the running backs coach at Tennessee. During that 1990 season Tennessee won the Southeastern Conference and captured the Sugar Bowl with a win over Virginia. The Volunteers scored a school record 442 points that year and averaged over 400 yards a game in total offense, 205.7 rushing and 205.4 passing. He served as Co-Defensive Coordinator at South Carolina in 1991 and 1992.

In 1993 West began his college head coaching career, as he took over a UT-Chattanooga team that had won just two games in 1992. He doubled that total in 1993 and guided the Mocs to one of the landmark wins in school history, a 33-31 win over #1 ranked Marshall. He concluded the regular season with a 45-42 victory over Furman, ironically, his first regular season opponent as Clemson coach.

His first game as head coach of the Tigers was in the Peach Bowl against Kentucky. West became the fifth coach in NCAA history to make his debut with a program in a bowl game. However, he was just the second coach in history to make his debut in a bowl game without previously coaching his new team as an assistant coach earlier in the season.

The debut was a rousing success as his Tigers downed the Wildcats 14-13 at the Georgia Dome. The Tigers drove 83 yards for the winning touchdown on their last possession. Patrick Sapp hit Terry Smith from 21 yards out with 20 seconds left to conclude the closest game of the 1993-94 bowl season. It was the latest winning touchdown drive by a Clemson team since 1958.

West earned three letters in his four-year career at Tennessee (1972-75). The Vols played in three bowl games and were ranked in a final Top 20 in three seasons. He was the co-captain of Tennessee's 1975 football team and played in the Blue-Gray All-Star game that same year.

He began his college career as a running back, but saw most of his playing time as a tight end. He caught 37 passes for 575 yards in his career with the Vols, including 16 passes for 233 yards as a senior. As a junior he caught an 81-yard pass from Condredge Holloway, still the longest non-scoring play in Tennessee history. He earned a bachelor's degree from Tennessee in 1976 and was drafted by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers that same year.

West played two years (1974-75) of baseball at Tennessee and had a career batting average of .305. He hit .367 in 1975 and was named All-SEC Eastern Division. Rick Honeycutt, now with the Oakland A's, was a teammate of West on that 1975 Tennessee team that finished 32-16.

West was a multi-sport standout in high school. He was an outfielder in baseball, a guard in basketball and a running back in football. In 1972 he was named a High School All-American in football and was a fifth-round draft choice in baseball by the Chicago Cubs. Willie Randolph, who went on to an all-Star career with the New York Yankees, was one of 77 future Major League players drafted after West in the regular phase of the June 1972 draft. But West turned down the Cubs offers and went to Tennessee. He played his prep football at Gainesville High in Gainesville, GA for Coach Bobby Gruhn. He was an all-state back as a junior and was also named to the All-Southern team.

Born Thomas Cleveland West on July 31, 1954, he is married to the former Lindsay Watkins of Forest City, NC. The couple has one son, Turner, 5.

West's Tigers downed Kentucky 14-13 at the 1993 Peach Bowl.

YOUR UNUSED TICKETS COULD HELP ERIC TACKLE THE BOOKS.

Eric attends a Homework Center – a place that helps him when Mom and Dad can't. And when he works especially hard, he can win wonderful prizes – like tickets to a Clemson home game that he might otherwise never get to see.

Hundreds of Homework Centers across the nation focus on keeping struggling students from becoming dropouts. In actuality, they're doing a lot more than that. Many hardworking students are bringing their grades up from F's to A's, and in one South Carolina elementary school expulsions declined from 38 to 4 after the centers opened.

Duke Power is proud to help support such an important and effective program. We invite you to help too. Simply donate football or basketball season tickets you're unable to use or purchase extra tickets to contribute to the Homework Centers for use as prizes. Send them at least two weeks before game day to: John Geer, Duke Power Company, P.O. Box 1745, Clemson, SC 29633.

If you do, you'll be helping students like Eric tackle the books today so that tomorrow they can tackle the world.

Assistant Coaches

Les Herrin

Les Herrin Assistant Head Coach/Defensive Line

The Clemson football program has seen a lot of success during Les Herrin's tenure as an assistant coach. In 1981, Herrin arrived at Clemson as a linebacker coach, and the Tigers won the National Championship that season. In his first tour of duty with the Tigers (1981-84) Clemson had a 37-6-2 record during that span.

After a brief stint away from Clemson at East Carolina (1985-87) and North Carolina (1988), Herrin returned to the Tiger program in 1989 as defensive line coach. In 1989 Clemson ranked fifth in the nation in scoring, rushing, and total defense. The team followed that performance with a number-one ranking in total defense in 1990.

Herrin, in his first year as Assistant Head Coach, has coached several players who have had successful NFL careers. Herrin coached 1981 ACC MVP Jeff Davis, who went on to be captain of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and 1989 All-Pro Johnny Remy (New England Patriots), who was a linebacker under Herrin's watchful eye in 1981 and 1982. Chester McGlockton, now one of the top young defensive linemen with the Los Angeles Raiders, and 1993 All-ACC selection Brentson Buckner of the Pittsburgh Steelers also benefitted from Herrin's teachings.

The Les Herrin File

At Clemson: In his first season as assistant head coach, sixth season as defensive line coach, and 10th season overall.

Miles Aldridge

Miles Aldridge Defensive Coordinator/Secondary

Now in his second stint at Clemson, Miles Aldridge will be the Tigers' defensive coordinator and work with the defensive backs in 1994. He first came to Clemson in 1985 as an inside linebacker coach. From 1986 thru 1989 the Tigers were ranked in the top 20 in all defensive categories. This included the 1989 season when Clemson ranked fifth nationally in rushing, scoring and total defense.

Clemson won three consecutive ACC titles during Aldridge's first stay at Clemson, 1986-87-88 and was ranked in the final AP top 25 in 1986-87-88-89. Clemson has been to a bowl game every year Aldridge has been affiliated with the program. And Clemson has been successful in those bowl appearances, as the Peach Bowl win over Kentucky gave Aldridge a 5-1 ledger in bowl games as a Clemson coach.

Aldridge has coached several players who have gone on to have successful pro careers. Three linebackers have gone on to the NFL, Andre Townsend (Mississippi), Freddie Joe Nunn (Mississippi), and Ed McDaniel (Clemson). Another former Clemson LB, Doug Brewster, went to the CFL, where he was a member of the Grey Cup Championship team, the Saskatchewan Roughriders.

The Miles Aldridge File

At Clemson: In his first full season as defensive coordinator, responsibilities also include defensive backs. It is his sixth full season as an assistant coach with the Tigers.

Previous Coaching Experience: High School - Chase High School (1971); defensive backs at Newberry High School (1972); College - Graduate assistant at East Tennessee State (1973); defensive line coach at East Tennessee State (1974-77); assistant coach at Wichita State (1978); assistant coach at Tulsa (1979); assistant coach at Mississippi (1980-82); assistant coach at Duke (1983-84); inside linebacker coach at Clemson (1985-89); outside linebacker coach at North Carolina State (1990); defensive coordinator and inside linebacker coach at South Carolina (1991-93); defensive coordinator at Clemson (Dec. 1993-present).

Education: A.C. Flora High School in Columbia, SC; B.S. in Physical Education with a minor in Biology from Gardner-Webb (1971).

College Playing Experience: Lettered three years in football at Gardner Webb.

Personal Data: Born January 25, 1949...he and his wife Cathy have two daughters, Allison and Blakely.

Clyde Christensen

Clyde Christensen Co-Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks

An All-American quarterback in junior college, Clyde Christensen comes to Clemson after two years at Maryland. He knows the ACC well as he also played for the University of North Carolina in 1977 and 1978.

At Maryland he coached quarterbacks John Kaleo and Scott Milanovich. Kaleo ranked second in the nation in total offense as a senior, while Milanovich ranked fourth nationally in that category.

Christensen's offense at Maryland was explosive, as the Terps ranked fourth in the country in 1992 with an average of 466 yards per game, and 16th last year when they averaged 440 yards per game. The Terps also ranked second in the country in passing offense in 1992 and third in passing offense in 1993.

While Christensen is in his first year as a coach at Clemson, he has known Clemson head coach Tommy West for over 15 years. The two were graduate assistant coaches together at Mississippi in 1979. He is only 36-years-old, but already has college experience at Mississippi, East Tennessee State, Temple, East Carolina, Holy Cross, South Carolina and Maryland.

Christensen was a part of two successful teams at North Carolina, as the Tar Heels played in the 1977 Liberty Bowl and the 1978 Peach Bowl during his career. He was also a junior college All-American at Fresno City Junior College in California. He is a native of Corvina, CA.

The Clyde Christensen File

At Clemson: In his first season as co-offensive coordinator, he will also work with the Clemson quarterbacks.

Previous Coaching Experience: College - Graduate assistant at Mississippi (1979); offensive coordinator at East Tennessee State (1980-82); quarterback and wide receiver coach at Temple (1983-85); offensive and recruiting coordinator at East Carolina (1986-88); receivers and tight ends coach at Holy Cross (1990); running backs coach at South Carolina (1991); quarterback coach at Maryland (1992-93); co-offensive coordinator at Clemson (Dec. 1993-present).

Education: B.S. in Industrial Relations from the University of North Carolina (1979).

College Playing Experience: All-America quarterback for Fresno City Junior College; played for the University of North Carolina in 1977 and 1978.

Personal Data: Born January 28, 1958 in Corvina, CA...he and his wife Debbie have three children, Ruth (3), Rebecca (8), and Rachel (10).

Rick Stockstill

Rick Stockstill Co-Offensive Coordinator/Wide Receivers

Rick Stockstill has been around successful programs and record setting offenses his entire coaching career. In his first year as quarterback coach at Clemson (1989), the Tigers set a school record for completion percentage (60%). The Tigers led the Atlantic Coast Conference in total offense for the 1991 season, and Clemson gained the second most yards in school history in the process.

Stockstill also tutored productive offenses at Central Florida and Bethune-Cookman in his early years as a football coach. As a player, he was the starting quarterback for Florida State. He guided the Seminoles to a pair of Orange Bowl appearances, a pair of top 10 rankings, and was the team captain in 1981.

It is no surprise that Stockstill has moved up the coaching ladder so swiftly because he is the product of an athletic family. His father was a high school coach for many years at Fernandina Beach High School in Fernandina Beach, FL. His brother, Jeff, was a starting wide receiver for the Tigers in 1982, a reserve on the National Championship team of 1981, and was a contributor to the Clemson program for four years.

Stockstill is in his sixth year with the Clemson program and the Tigers have been to a bowl game in four of the five previous seasons. He joins Les Herrin and Whitey Jordan as the only full-time assistant coaches in Clemson history to serve under three different head coaches.

The Rick Stockstill File

At Clemson: In his first season as co-offensive coordinator and is in his sixth season with the Tigers.

Previous Coaching Experience: College - Offensive coordinator and quarterback coach at Bethune-Cookman College (1983-84); assistant head coach and wide receiver coach at the University of Central Florida (1985-88); quarterback coach at Clemson (1989-1993); passing game coordinator at Clemson (1992-93); co-offensive coordinator and wide receiver coach (Dec. 1993-present).

Education: Fernandina Beach High School in Fernandina Beach, FL (1977); B.S. degree in Physical Education from Florida State (1982).

College Playing Experience: Earned three letters in football from Florida State.

Personal Data: Born December 23, 1959...he and his wife Sara were married on July 7, 1990, and had their first child, Brent Forrest, in August, 1994.

Richard Bisaccia

Richard Bisaccia Running Backs/Special Teams/ Recruiting Coordinator

This Yonkers, NY native was a four-year starter and team captain at Yankton College. He was a free agent with the Philadelphia Stars of the USFL after his college career.

While the 1983 Spring season saw the end of his football career, the 1983 fall was the beginning of his coaching career. He was named the offensive coordinator at Wayne State in Nebraska his first year out of college and he has been in college coaching ever since.

Unlike many Division I full-time assistant coaches, Bisaccia has not made a lot of moves. He spent five seasons at Wayne State, then six seasons at South Carolina. He has experience coaching on defense and offense, but will concentrate on the running backs position at Clemson.

The 34-year-old Bisaccia is a coach who enjoys challenges. That is fortunate for Clemson because he must work with a very young group of running backs in his first year. There are no junior or senior backs on the Clemson roster.

Bisaccia probably wears more hats than any other Clemson coach. In addition to his time with the running backs, he is also the special teams coach and the recruiting coordinator.

In addition to Bisaccia's changes on the gridiron the last year, he has had a family addition. Last August, his wife Jeanne gave birth to their first son and fourth child, Richard Oakley.

The Richard Bisaccia File

At Clemson: In his first season as the Tigers' running backs coach and special teams coach.

Previous Coaching Experience: College - Offensive coordinator at Wayne State (NE) (1983-87); graduate assistant for wide receivers at South Carolina (1988); volunteer assistant for defensive ends at South Carolina (1989-90); tight ends coach at South Carolina (1991); running backs and special teams coach at South Carolina (1992-93); running backs and special teams coach at Clemson (Dec. 1993-present).

Education: New Fairfield High School in New Fairfield, CT; Earned a degree in health and physical education from Yankton College (1983).

College Playing Experience: Four-year starter and team captain at Yankton College (1980-83). Played one year with the Philadelphia Stars of the USFL.

Personal Data: Born June 3, 1960...he and his wife Jeanne have four children: daughters, Michele (10), Elizabeth (5), and Madeline (1) and son Richard Oakley (August 1994).

James Earle

James Earle Tight Ends

James Earle holds the distinction of being the only former Clemson player on the 1994 Clemson Coach staff. There are many former Clemson players in coaching this year, but he is the only former Tiger serving his alma mater in a full-time capacity.

If Earle can make as many contributions as a coach as he did as a player, Tommy West will be very proud of his former player. Earle was a starting outside linebacker for the Tigers in 1986 and 1987 and West was his position coach.

As a player, Earle was named the nation's #6 outside linebacker by the Sporting News in the preseason of 1987. He led the Tigers in tackles that year with 79, outdistancing Michael Dean Perry for that honor. Clemson was fifth in the nation in total defense that year. Earle finished his career with 213 tackles, 15 tackles for loss and 16 pass deflections. He played in 47 straight games and had 27 starts. The versatile athlete lettered as a strong safety in 1984 and 1985 and played in three bowl games. Clemson won the ACC Championship and won a bowl game his junior and senior seasons.

Earle began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Clemson in 1990 and 1991, then was hired by West at UT-Chattanooga in 1993. Earle already has experience with a college program on both sides of the ball. He is tutoring the tight ends at Clemson and was a linebacker coach at UTC.

The James Earle File

At Clemson: In his first full season as tight ends coach.

Previous Coaching Experience: High School - Football, track, and wrestling coach at Greer High School (1989); football, basketball, and track coach at Easley High School (1992); College - Graduate assistant at Clemson (1990-91); linebacker coach at UT-Chattanooga (1993); tight ends coach at Clemson (1993-Present).

Education: Earned a Secondary Education degree from Clemson (1989).

College Playing Experience: Played strong safety and outside linebacker for Clemson (1984-87).

Personal Data: Born March 26, 1966 in Easley, SC.

Reggie Herring

Reggie Herring Inside Linebackers

Reggie Herring is another example of an outstanding player who has gone on to become an outstanding coach. A teammate of Rick Stockstill at Florida State, Herring left his own mark with the Seminole program as a player.

Herring was captain of the 1981 FSU Orange Bowl team and earned AP All-America honors that year. The Seminoles played in the Orange Bowl and ranked in the top 10 in the nation his junior and senior seasons, and he was recently inducted into the Florida State Hall of Fame. He was a three-year starter at Florida State and the Seminoles played in three bowls during his four year career. Florida State also had three double-figure victory seasons during his career.

Like many of Clemson's assistant coaches in 1994, Herring has a diverse resume. Herring has not made plans over the Christmas holidays for quite some time. He has been a part of college football as a player and coach since 1977. In those 17 seasons he has been to 13 bowl games, 10 as a coach and three as a player. He has coached in bowl games for Oklahoma State, Auburn, and Clemson and of course played in three bowls at Florida State.

The Reggie Herring File

At Clemson: In his first season as inside linebackers coach.

Ellis Johnson

Ellis Johnson Outside Linebackers

Ellis Johnson is another successful Tiger assistant who has ties to the area. Johnson attended The Citadel, but he grew up a Clemson fan. He was raised just outside of Columbia, but he had many relatives who were Clemson alumni. He has coached in the state at The Citadel as a graduate assistant, at Gaffney High as an assistant coach and at Spartanburg High as an assistant coach and head coach. He went back to the Citadel in 1982.

His most remarkable experience in coaching so far took place in Alabama. In 1992 Johnson served as an assistant coach at Alabama. The Crimson Tide experienced a perfect season and defeated Miami (FL) in the Sugar Bowl to win the National Championship. He is one of two Tiger assistant coaches on this year's staff with a National Championship ring. Les Herrin, a member of Clemson's 1981 staff, is the other.

Johnson was a part of four outstanding defenses as Alabama. During his tenure (1990-93), Alabama ranked in the top five in the nation in total defense and pass defense three times. The 1992 Alabama defense led the nation in total defense and rushing defense, and ranked second nationally in passing defense and scoring defense.

The Ellis Johnson File

At Clemson: In his first season as outside linebackers coach.
Previous Coaching Experience: High School - Assistant coach at Gaffney High School (1976-78); assistant coach at Spartanburg High School (1979); head coach at Spartanburg High School (1980-81); College - Defensive end coach at The Citadel (1975); linebacker coach at The Citadel (1982); head coach at Gardner Webb (1983); defensive coordinator and inside linebacker coach at Appalachian State (1984); outside linebacker coach and recruiting coordinator at East Carolina (1985-87); defensive coordinator at Southern Mississippi (1988-89); outside linebacker coach at Alabama (1990-93); outside linebacker coach at Clemson (Dec. 1993-present).
Education: Earned a degree in Secondary Education from The Citadel (1975).
College Playing Experience: Three-year letterman at The Citadel.
Personal Data: Born December 23, 1951...married to the former Tonya Taylor this past July.

John Latina

John Latina Offensive Line

John Latina has been an offensive coach for a Division I program every year since 1979. He might have his greatest challenge this season, however, as he has just three of the top 10 offensive linemen from last year's 9-3 squad returning.

But, if any coach can handle a situation devoid of experience it is John Latina. The Virginia Tech graduate who once played against Clemson as an offensive guard (1978) has worked at Virginia Tech, Pittsburgh, Temple and Kansas State. He has already coached in a bowl game with four different schools, Virginia Tech, Pittsburgh, Kansas State and Clemson.

During his career he has worked with Dan Marino, who led the Panthers to a 9-3 ledger and the Cotton Bowl in 1982. Paul Palmer, one of the top rushers in NCAA history with Temple, was also a member of Latina's offense in the 1980s.

Over the last five years Kansas State's program in general and offense in particular, has shown as much improvement as any in the country. In Latina's second season at Kansas State as offensive line coach and running game coordinator, the Wildcats set a school record for total offense with 4,231. Kansas State advanced to a bowl game in 1992, just the second bowl appearance in school history.

The John Latina File

At Clemson: In his first season as offensive line coach.
Previous Coaching Experience: College - Assistant coach at Virginia Tech (1979-81); assistant coach at Pittsburgh (1982); offensive line coach at Temple (1983-88); running game coordinator at Kansas State (1989-93); offensive line coach at Clemson (Dec. 1993-present).
Education: Received a bachelor's degree from Virginia Tech (1979).
College Playing Experience: Four-year letter winner at Virginia Tech as an offensive guard (1975-78).
Personal Data: Born September 18, 1957...he and his wife Michele have two sons John Jr. (10) and Michael (7).

We Earned

Our MBA.

If service were easy, anyone could do it.

Eastman Chemical Company earned the Malcolm Baldrige Award in part by delivering the kind of dependability that keeps customers happy and coming back for more.

In the past four years, we've maintained 98% shipping reliability, with some units reaching 100%. Maybe that's why 70% of our customers rate us their #1 supplier.

The Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award is America's highest award for quality management. Earning it was the hardest thing we've ever done. And, for our customers, we'd do it all again tomorrow.

Saying WESTPOINT without STEVENS

was like saying

CLEMSON without TIGERS.

Here's how we tackled the situation:

From our history we have taken two great names and a symbol – each with a high recognition factor, rich in history and tradition – and formed a new Company name to propel us into the future. All three of these textile leaders make up today's WESTPOINT STEVENS. Now – for the first time – each of the three great companies that have gone into our Company as we know it today are represented in one name and trademark.

WestPoint Stevens is now the name behind great names like MARTEX®, UTICA®, LADY PEPPERELL®, STEVENS®, VELLUX® and ALAMAC® and licensed designer labels including RALPH LAUREN®, COLLIER CAMPBELL®, LOUIS NICHOLE®, GLORIA VANDERBILT®, SANDERSON®, EILEEN WEST®, JOE BOXER®, and LIBERTY OF LONDON®.

Dear Diary,

Tuesday: I couldn't believe the great  I saw on campus. Wednesday: He's in my  class! His name is Jack. What a doll! I've gotta get to Uptons. Thursday:

Jack smiled at me! I wore that  and  I got at Uptons. Friday: He asked me if I wanted to get tomorrow night!!! Aahh! What'll I wear!?! Back to Uptons!

Clemson Coaches

Clemson Sports Notes, 1993-94

*Clemson had nine teams rank among the final top 25 in either the final poll, or NCAA meet/ tournament events. The highest ranked team was the baseball team, which finished fourth in the final Baseball America poll. The Clemson soccer team advanced to the NAACAs and was fifth in the final poll, the wrestling team was seventh, the golf team was ninth, the men's track team was 11th, the Lady Tiger tennis team was 18th in the final poll, the women's basketball team was 22nd (USA Today poll), the football team 22nd (USA Today poll), and the men's indoor track team was 24th.

*The final Sears All-Sports poll ranked the Clemson all-round sports program 16th in the nation. Clemson's fine spring of top 11 finishes in baseball, track and golf had a lot to do with that fine ranking. *Clemson defeated the number-one team in two different sports in 1993-94. The Tiger soccer team defeated number-one Virginia in Charlottesville on a goal at the buzzer by All-American Jimmy Glenn. The Clemson baseball team defeated Georgia Tech (ranked number-one by Baseball America) twice in Atlanta in May. It was just the second time in Clemson history that the Tigers had beaten the number-one team in two different sports in the same year.

*Nine different sports that compete in dual meet or match competition had at least one win over a top 25 opponent during the 1993-94 academic year.

*It was a showcase year for Clemson's facilities. For the first time in history, Clemson played host to NCAA Championship events in three different sports. Clemson played host to the volleyball and soccer tournaments in the Fall, the women's basketball tournament in the Winter and the baseball tournament in the Spring.

*Clemson had a solid year in football, basketball and baseball, the school's oldest and most traditional sports. Clemson went to postseason play in all three sports and was one of just two schools in the nation to win at least nine football games, 18 basketball games and 36 baseball games. Florida was the only other school in the nation to do it. It was just the eighth time in Clemson history and the first time in five years that Clemson has been to postseason play in all three of its oldest sports in the same academic year.

*All but two of Clemson's teams had what would be termed a winning season and five of the teams that participate in head-to-head competition won at least 70 percent of their games.

*Clemson football player Warren Forney was the recipient of the Sullivan Award, one of the top honors bestowed upon a Clemson student. It is presented for service to others.

*Jaro Zawislanski won the ACC's Jim Weaver Award as one of the top all-around student-athletes in the ACC.

Clemson finished 16th in the National Sears All-Sports poll in 1993-94.

*Over the last 13 years the ACC has captured more college football national championships than any other conference. Clemson won the title in 1981, Georgia Tech in 1990 and Florida State in 1993. The Big Eight is second with two national championships over the last 13 years, while the Pac-10, the Western Athletic and Southeastern have one apiece. Maryland also won the national championship in 1953, the first year of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

*Over the last five years the ACC is the only conference in the nation to have each of its schools play in a bowl game.

*The nine ACC schools that will take to the field this fall have produced 296 first or second-team gridiron All-Americans and 47 first-team Academic All-Americans. ACC teams have had 1,253 players selected in the annual NFL draft, including 78 first-round selections.

*In 1993 the ACC boasted its first Heisman Trophy winner, Charlie Ward. He was one of eight different ACC players to be selected first or second-team All-American by at least one service. The list included Clemson guard Stacy Seegers.

*Clemson and Florida State are two of just four teams nationally who have won at least 75 percent of their games in seven of the last eight years. Clemson and Florida State are also the only two teams in the nation to win six bowl games since 1986.

*For the third consecutive year the ACC drew more than 2.3 million fans. Over 54 home dates, ACC schools attracted 2,416,728 fans. ACC teams played to 87 percent of their stadium capacities. Clemson ranked 15th in the nation in average attendance, its 12th straight year in the top 15 in the nation in attendance.

*If success in postseason play is a barometer of excellence, the ACC is among the best leagues in the nation. ACC teams have a combined 70-65-5 record in bowl games over the years, a .537 winning percentage. That is second only to the Pac-10's .551 success rate. Three ACC teams are among the top eight in NCAA history in terms of bowl winning percentage. Georgia Tech is second with a 68 percent mark, Florida State is fourth with a .636 mark and Clemson is eighth at .632.

*Four ACC teams are guaranteed appearing in postseason bowls this year. Five ACC teams received bowl bids in 1993. Two ACC teams are committed to the 1994 Football Bowl Coalition. The league champion is guaranteed a spot in one of four Tier One Bowls, the Orange, Sugar, Cotton and Fiesta, and a second team will be available for the Tier Two Bowls, the Gator and the John Hancock. For the third year of a three-year contract, the ACC is committed to sending a third team to the Peach Bowl. The ACC is in the second year of a two-year contract to have a fourth league team compete against a Big Ten team, (also a number-four team) in the Hall of Fame Bowl.

*The ACC also stands at the forefront of intercollegiate athletics in terms of academic achievements of its student-athletes. That accomplishment is certainly shown in the list of schools who have won the CFA Academic Achievement Award, which is presented to the CFA member institution with the highest graduation rate of its football team. Eight times over the past 14 years an ACC member school has claimed the award. In 1994, the ACC had six of the 20 CFA members who reported a graduation rate of 70 percent or better.

*The ACC excelled in more than just football in 1993-94. The conference captured five national titles and participated in the national title game in four other sports. The ACC has won 18 national team championships over the last four years. In 1993-94 the ACC claimed the national champion in football, women's basketball, women's soccer and field hockey. The ACC held the runnerup spot in men's basketball, baseball, men's lacrosse and women's lacrosse.

*The ACC placed at least one team in the top 10 nationally in 14 of the 23 sports sponsored by the league. In 1993-94 a league record 82 teams competed in NCAA championships, five teams were in football bowl games and 29 teams were ranked in the final top 10 of their respective sports.

*At one time or another, an all-time high 12 ACC teams in eight different sports, representing seven of the nine institutions, held a number-one ranking in 1993-94.

*The ACC Academic Honor Roll record was broken for the eighth straight year as 1,151 student-athletes were recognized for their work in the classroom.

*ACC teams made an all-time record 29 national television appearances last fall and an ACC team participated in the highest rated game in 10 years.

Clemson and Florida State are the only schools in the country with six bowl wins since 1986. The ACC is the only conference in the nation that has seen all of its members participate in a bowl over the last five years.

Memorial Stadium

In 1991, two very special anniversaries in the Clemson football tradition were observed. Not only did the 1991 season mark the 10th anniversary of Clemson's National Championship season, but it also marked the 50th birthday of the place where the Tigers won six games that season: Memorial Stadium.

In the first 52 years of Memorial Stadium, Clemson has a record of 180-65-7, including a 22-3-1 ledger over the last four seasons. Clemson had a 16-game unbeaten streak at home between 1990-92 and has a career winning ratio of 72.8 percent.

The stadium has definitely been good to the Tigers who call it home, but the stadium was constructed against the advice of at least one Clemson coach. Just before head coach Jess Neely left for Rice University after the 1939 season, he gave Clemson a message. "Don't ever let them talk you into building a big stadium," he said. "Put about 10,000 seats behind the Y.M.C.A. That's all you'll ever need."

Instead of following Coach Neely's advice, however, Clemson officials decided to build the new stadium in a valley on the western part of campus. The place would take some clearing—there were many trees, but luckily there were no hedges.

The crews went to work: clearing, cutting, pouring, and forming. Finally, on September 19, 1942, Clemson Memorial Stadium opened with the Tiger Football team thrashing Presbyterian College, 32-13. Those 20,000 seats installed for Opening Day would soon grow; and grow and grow. This year Clemson celebrates its 53rd year in this outstanding facility.

When the original part of the stadium was built in the early 40's, much of the work was done by scholarship athletes, including many football players. The first staking out of the stadium was done by two members of the football team, A.N. Cameron and Hugh Webb. Webb returned to Clemson years later to be an architecture professor, and Cameron went on to become a civil engineer in Louisiana.

The building of the stadium did not proceed without a few problems. One day during the clearing of the land, one young football player proudly announced that he was not allergic to poison oak. He then commenced to attack the poison oak with a swing blade, throwing the plants to and fro. The next day, however, the boy was swollen twice his size and had to be put in the hospital.

There are many other stories about the stadium including one stating that Frank Howard put a chew of tobacco in each corner of the stadium as the concrete poured.

Howard says that the seeding of the grass caused a few problems. "About 40 people and I laid sod on the field," he says. "After three weeks, on July 15, we had only gotten halfway through.

"I told them that it had taken us three weeks to get that far, and I would give them three more week's pay for however long it took. I also told them we would have 50 gallons of ice cream when we got through. After that it took them three days to do the rest of the field. Then we sat down in the middle of the field and ate up that whole 50 gallons."

Howard says that on the first day of the first game in the stadium, "the gates were hung at 1:00 and we played at 2:00." But that would be all of the construction for a while. Then in 1958, 18,000 sideline seats were added and, in 1960, a total of 5,658 West end zone seats were added in response to increasing attendance. With the large end zone, "Green Grass" section, this expansion increased capacity to about 53,000.

Later, upper decks were added to each side of the stadium as crowds swelled—the first one in 1978 and the second in 1983. This increased capacity to over 80,000 which makes it one of the 10 largest on-campus stadiums in the country.

The effect spiraling inflation has had in this century can be dramatically seen in the differences in stadium construction. The original part of the stadium was built at a cost of $125,000 or at $6.25 a seat. The newest upper deck was finished in 1983 at a cost of $13.5 million, or $866 a seat.

Through the years, Memorial Stadium has become known as "Death Valley." It was tagged this by the late Presbyterian coach, Lonnie McMillan. After bringing his P.C. teams to Clemson for years and getting whipped, McMillan said the place was like Death Valley. A few years later the name stuck.

Clemson has the ninth largest on campus stadium in College Football.

Clemson has the most unique and famous stadium entrance in sports.

On November 16, 1974 the playing surface was named Frank Howard Field for the legendary coach because of his long service and dedication to the University.

Athletic Director Bobby Robinson says that Memorial Stadium has many features which makes it a top facility. "One thing that makes it so good is the number of sideline seats," he says. "We don't think there is a bad seat in the house."

"We also have outstanding dressing rooms, press facilities, and ample parking nearby. Another unique feature of the stadium is the number of private boxes."

If Memorial Stadium is expanded again and the capacity is pushed closer to 100,000, there will be room for construction over the west stands, enclosing that end like a horseshoe.

Luckily, the stadium wasn't built behind the Y.

What the Opponents Say:

"The biggest thing is dealing with the noise once the game starts. Clemson fans are among the most enthusiastic in all of football."

Bobby Ross, Head Coach
San Diego Chargers, 1991

"When they (Clemson) ran down the hill, I got so excited I could hardly breathe."

Marco Coleman
Georgia Tech, 1991

"Games at Clemson are unreal. You can stand next to each other and talk and can't hear what the other guy is saying. The offense and defense of the opposing team better get used to using hand signals to set formations and get plays off."

Bobby Houston
N.C. State linebacker, 1989

"I came in here knowing it would be loud and that Clemson would hit me hard, but to me the noise was the biggest factor. I know I didn't concentrate as well because of it."

Herschel Walker
Georgia tailback, 1981

Death Valley will be the home of the Carolina Panthers in 1995. It will be the largest stadium in the NFL that year.

ATTENTION HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS:

To be considered a qualifier at a Division 1 institution and be eligible for financial aid, practice and competition during your first year, you must:

1. Graduate from high school
2. Present a minimum combined test score on the SAT verbal and math sections or a minimum composite score on the ACT as indicated on the index scale below:

CORE GPA	SAT	ACT
2.500 and above	700	17
2.375	750	18
2.250	800	19
2.125	850	20
2.000	900 and above	21 and above

3. Present a minimum grade point average in at least 13 core courses in the following areas:

English — three years

Mathematics — two years

Natural or Physical Science — two years

Additional course in English, mathematics, or natural or physical science — two years

Social Science — two years

Additional Academic Courses (in any of the above areas or foreign language, computer science, philosophy, or non-doctrinal religion courses) — two years

Please note that student-athletes entering a Division I institution on or after August 1, 1996, must present four years of English and the two-year requirement in mathematics must involve one year of algebra and one year of geography.

CLEMSON UNIVERSITY ARMY ROTC

PREREQUISITE: ADRENALINE

Drive. Intensity. Those aren't words you're likely to see in many course requirements. Then again, Army ROTC is unlike any other elective. It's hands-on excitement. ROTC will challenge you mentally and physically through intense leadership training. Training that builds character, self-confidence and decision-making skills. Again, words other courses seldom use. But they're the credits you need to succeed in life. ROTC is open to freshmen and sophomores without obligation and requires about 4 hours per week. Register this term for Army ROTC.

By John Seketa

That lovable Clemson Tiger mascot turns 40 this year.

A Tiger is on the loose.

For 40 years now, "The Tiger" or "Mr. Tiger" as he is sometimes called, has been one of the most popular attractions at any Clemson athletic event. He can be seen imitating game officials (which is now against the rules), signing autographs, getting his picture taken with numerous dignitaries (President Reagan, President Bush, Bob Hope, among others), shooting the cannon, or doing his legendary "Pushups" each time Clemson scores.

The 1994 season marks the 40th year a Clemson student has adorned the mascot suit to entertain the Clemson faithful. These students have had some memorable moments.

"My greatest memory as the Tiger was at my first football game," said Chris Shimakonis the Tiger from 1986-1987. "The first time running down The Hill into Death Valley was an unbelievable feeling. There were 80,000 screaming fans, all clad in Orange, cheering for those Tigers."

Bob Harris who served as the Tiger from 1967-68 once lost his head at a football game against North Carolina. "A good looking UNC cheerleader talked me into letting her hold the Tiger head," Harris said. "The next thing I knew the head was up in the UNC stands. We were able to get it back after the cheerleaders and I took North Carolina's Ram mascot hostage."

On several occasions the Tiger has lost another part of his outfit. His tail is a highly sought after trophy for opposing fans. John Hearst, the Tiger in 1964, lost his tail when he was climbing the goal post at Georgia Tech. Tony Saad lost his tail and head after the Texas A&M game in 1974 when several Cadets captured him after the game and took the tail and the head. He was unable to get them back until Bennie Cunningham came over and helped him.

Several other Tigers tell stories of losing another thing, weight. In 1978, Tiger Zack Mills started a new tradition in the fall as he did a pushup for every point scored. This may seem like an insignificant change in the Tiger duties, but these pushups are done cumulatively. If the Clemson football team scores a touchdown the Tiger does seven pushups, and after the next touchdown the Tiger would have to do 14 pushups. Mills might have been the most innovative of the Tiger mascots. He was well known for his mischief, especially on the road. At Wake Forest one year he somehow became the first person to kiss the Homecoming Queen.

For many people doing around 100 pushups during a game may not sound difficult but the Tigers do them wearing an outfit that weighs 10 pounds dry. To date Zack Mills holds three records in the Tiger Pushup record book. He did 42 pushups in the first quarter of the 1978 South Carolina game and 109 in the fourth quarter of the 1978 Citadel game. He also holds the mark for pushups in a season with 1,124 in 1978. The all-time record holder for pushups at Clemson in a single game belongs to Ricky Capps (465 vs Wake Forest, 1981).

The record for pushups overseas is 71 by Randy Faile in 1982 against Wake Forest. In 1991, that record was in jeopardy of being broken until the Duke band cut off the Tigers tail at the Coca-Cola Bowl in Japan. The Tiger football team won the game 33-21, but Will Sykes, the Tiger, was unable to do all 102 push-ups as his tail was being replaced costing Sykes the record.

For Sykes not having the record is not that important because he had the chance of "Running Down The Hill" every home game. The 1992 Tiger, Chris Peters, sums up his experience like all Tigers have in the past. "The hot days are worth it when you see the smiles that you bring to the faces of children, no matter how old they are."

This year's Tiger mascot is Michael Bays a sophomore from Bethlehem, Pennsylvania. "The first time I put on the suit was for the Special Olympics in April. Just seeing the smiles on the faces of the young kids was overwhelming. I realized then the importance of the uniform. Every time I put on the suit I represent the alumni, the students, the school, and our fans."

Bays has big shoes to fill as he begins the 40th year of the Tiger. However, Jay Williams the Tiger Cub has bigger shoes to fill, literally. In 1993, Williams put on the Cub uniform, which includes size 28 shoes, for the first time. The Tigers' nephew, The Cub, has been a hit with the young Clemson fans, as over 2,000 youngsters became charter members in the IPTAY Tiger Cub Club in 1993-94.

"It is an honor to be the first Tiger Cub," said Williams. "It has been exciting to create a personality, and has been overwhelming seeing the kids faces. The Tiger is more traditional, the fighting Tiger, but I am an innocent, playful childlike mascot that the smaller kids really enjoy. The Cub adds a new dimension and means of interacting with the crowd."

With the help of The Cub, The Tiger will continue to bring many smiles to the faces of the Clemson faithful. Thank you Mr. Tiger and Happy 40th birthday.

COME TO YOUR DODGE DEALER AND SEE THE CAR THAT CHANGED EVERYTHING...

Dodge Intrepid ES

It's called Dodge Intrepid. And it's like no other car you've ever driven. Its remarkable cab-forward design gives more room to people and less to machinery. Although the machinery itself is remarkable. Like a 4-speed automatic that adjusts shift quality based on your driving habits. Plus other technological wonders too numerous to mention. Dodge Intrepid. This changes everything.

...AND THE TRUCK THAT CHANGED ALL THE RULES.

Dodge Ram Pickup

The Dodge Ram Pickup. It's the first full-size pickup with available anti-lock brakes at all four wheels. And every pickup we sell comes with a standard driver's-side airbag.* While, under the hood, there's a choice of powerful Magnum engines including an awesome 300 horsepower V-10. Ram pickup also changes the rules about the way a truck ought to look. Dodge Ram. The rules have changed.

THEN SAY HI TO NEON.

Dodge Neon

Don't let its small size fool you. Our Neon is full of big ideas. Like cab-forward design. So there's more room inside than you might think. And more power, too. A generous 132 horses to be exact. Plus four-wheel independent suspension and available quick-ratio power steering make it a ball to drive. Say hello to Neon and you could be saying hello to your next new car.

Warren Forney

by Brett Sowell

When Clemson defensive end Warren Forney was in the eighth grade his physical education teacher made a statement to him that has always had an impact on his everyday life. The teacher, Edward Craig, said, "You are not a man, unless you can help your fellow man."

"At the time I really didn't know what that meant," recalled Forney, now eight years removed from the eighth grade. "As I became older I realized what he meant. I try to do what he said to this day. I never realized people really do watch you and see the things that you do."

The deeds that Warren Forney has done have not gone unnoticed. Last April he received the Algernon Sydney-Sullivan Award, one of the top all-around student honors given by Clemson University. Characteristics of award recipients include, "possession of such characteristics of heart, mind, and conduct as evince a spirit of love and helpfulness to other men and women."

"Receiving the Sullivan Award was a shock. I just try to treat people the way that I like to be treated. I have always had a lot of high expectations for myself and through God I have been allowed to be as successful as I have been." Forney is a member of Tiger Brotherhood, he has served as a peer health educator and on the Student-Athlete Advisory Board. He is best recognized for his extensive work with elementary students at local schools. Among other awards he has received are the Black Students of Promise Award, 1993 Toyota Leadership Award, a Community Spirit Award presented weekly by the ACC and Exxon, and in 1992 he was named Academic All-ACC.

Receiving the Sullivan Award led to Forney's selection as the student assigned the task of giving the Invocation at the 1994 Clemson May Commencement ceremonies. Forney can be described as a public speaking veteran, but this event was a little bit different. "I was not used to speaking at that type of event, graduating is something that is special and I did not want to get on stage and fumble around," said Forney using a football analogy. "I really wanted to be someone that people could remember. I did a good job, at least that's what everyone said," Forney adds jokingly. "I was nervous because I did not want to mess up anyone's day. I knew it was important to the people graduating and to their friends and families who had come a long way to see it."

Forney has made great strides since he failed to qualify for admission to Clemson after his senior year of high school due to the proposition 48 requirement. He credits his time at Fork Union Prep School for developing good study habits and in general helping him to mature and be prepared for college.

"At Fork Union everyone wanted to go to college, whether they were athletes or not. It was the first time that I had been in that type of environment. My main problem was my college board scores. I had to work to get past the SAT and with God's blessing I made it. It was something that I saw myself work towards and accomplish, and it gave me a lot of confidence. When I came to Clemson everything just carried over. I was already accustomed to studying because of my experience at Fork Union and I just came in and knew what I had to do."

On the field Forney has experienced a bit of Clemson's junior defensive end hopes he wins as many awards for his on-field activities in 1994 as he won for his off-field work in 1993.

a roller coaster ride. In 1991 as a true freshman he played in just seven games and had eight tackles. A highlight was a caused fumble in the ACC title clincher against Maryland.

In 1992 Forney ranked third on the team in tackles with 83. He played 567 snaps and had nine tackles for loss. He posted a career high 11 stops in the victory at Virginia, the greatest comeback in Clemson history. He averaged nine tackles a game against ACC foes and was also named the team's Lifter of the Year for his work in the weightroom.

The 1993 season was a different story. Forney injured his knee and had surgery in the Spring prior to the season. Then, at Florida State, he suffered a more serious knee injury and was lost for the season. It was a trying season for Forney, as he spent much more time in the training room working to rehab his knee than on the practice field. It was a discouraging time, but an experience during one of his visits to an elementary school helped him through the frustrating times.

"I went to La France Elementary School during their reading week. I was injured at the time, but I forgot how receptive kids are. Some of the kids may have heard their parents, teachers, or even I might have mentioned something to them about my knee injury. The next week I received this big envelope and it had all kinds of letters in it. That was something that got me over the hump. Their message was thanks and to just keep working hard, that is what I have done."

"Another motivating incident that helped me make it through rehab was against North Carolina last season. I was unable to travel with the team to North Carolina and it was tough for me to watch it on television, but I turned it on anyway. I saw Patrick Sapp and Louis Solomon with my number on the back of their helmet and that meant a lot to me. It showed me that those two believed in me, and right then it occurred to me when you are down, there will always be someone on this team to give you a helping hand."

In addition to the young fans and his teammates, Forney has always gotten great support from his family.

"The support my family has given me has been very important," said the native of Rutherfordton, NC. "They are at all my games and they let me know how I played. If I do poorly they tell me in a positive way and when I do well they also tell me. I appreciate their honesty."

Forney comes from a background of collegiate football players. Both of his brothers played college football as outside linebackers. Phil played at East Tennessee State and was drafted by the Jacksonville Bulls of the USFL. He played for the then St. Louis Cardinals in the NFL before finishing his career with the New York Jets in 1988. Stan played at the University of Houston and now owns his own business in Dallas, as well as being a member of the Dallas Police Department.

After Forney finishes with his undergraduate degree in December he might go to graduate school. "I would like to go into human resource development because basically, I just want to work with people. I want to do something where I am helping people and I can come home to my wife and kids and say I had a great day."

Today with NCAA admission requirements for eligibility changing so frequently Forney wouldn't mind living in North or South Carolina and working as a high school guidance counselor. "Now there is a sliding rule in academic admissions and I think kids really need to be exposed to that. Kids today may blow one step and be forced to go to a prep school or junior college, and some will not be able to afford those options. Then those guys may end up being a statistic and I would like to prevent that."

Someday, don't be surprised if a story is authored about a young athlete who was positively affected by a guy named Warren Forney.

Warren Forney, a 1992 Academic All-ACC selection, was named the 1994 recipient of Clemson University's Algernon Sydney-Sullivan Award, an honor presented each year to a Clemson student for his or her service to others. The junior delivered the invocation at the May graduation exercises.

What we mean by putting South Carolina first.

We founded Carolina First because, well, because we felt we had to.

- South Carolina's community banks were being bought up and run to serve absentee owners.
- Being South Carolinians, we didn't care to do without a strong bank dedicated to our state's well-being. Being bankers, we created this bank. • If we understand South Carolina's needs, it's because they're the needs of our own friends and neighbors. We invest in South Carolina businesses because it's good business for all concerned. After all, when our home communities grow and prosper, we grow and prosper. And because we treat our customers as the individuals they are, their good feelings spark our own. • We'd treat any customer from anywhere this way. But by design – and in conscious contrast to the multi-state megabanks – our customers are South Carolinians. So are we. Is it any wonder we put South Carolina first?

CAROLINA FIRST
The bank that puts South Carolina first.

IT'S WHAT YOU DO WHEN THE COACH ISN'T WATCHING THAT MATTERS.

Start early. Stay late. Take responsibility. Do what needs to be done without being told to do it. These are qualities that matter. Especially when it comes to service. And especially at First Union, where service throughout the Southeast doesn't stop at the door or close at five. It's looking after you even when you're not looking.

Reggie Herring

By Jessica Reo

In 1983, Clemson inside linebacker coach Reggie Herring received the break all coaches dream of. An examination of the careers of most college coaches reveals a tour of duty at the high school level, then a small college, then Division II or I-AA, then finally Division I. But, thanks to former Dallas Cowboys Super Bowl Champion Coach Jimmy Johnson, Herring bypassed many of the normal rungs of the coaching profession ladder.

"I was a graduate assistant coach one fall and the very next spring I was coaching full-time," recalled Herring. "Jimmy Johnson was the head coach at that time at Oklahoma State and the timing was right. He believed in me as an extremely young, inexperienced coach right out of college, and gave me that opportunity. It was a unique situation to be coaching that young; to be coaching guys who were older than I was."

Herring took advantage of the situation and has gone on to a successful career at Oklahoma State, Auburn, Texas Christian and now Clemson. He has been around successful programs his entire career. In fact, he has been to 13 bowl games in his 17 years affiliated with the college game.

A reason for his success might be his experience as a player. Herring was an All-American inside linebacker at Florida State between 1977-80 and he has already been inducted into the Florida State Athletic Hall of Fame. "The greatest honor that I've ever received was being named team captain by my teammates. No honor could touch being named team captain by my peers and my teammates. That meant as much to me as anything as far as my college career goes."

Herring has coached the inside linebacker position most of his career, the position he played at Florida State. "I feel more comfortable coaching the position I played because I might have some sort of insight from my playing days. I know what those guys are going through in a game and in practice because I have been there. Being a player helped me understand the intangibles of the game, the pre-game preparation and that sort of thing."

While Herring's success as a coach in terms of communication with his players and the general Xs and Os connected with the game could be attributed to his playing success, he also has an off the field plus going for him, a plus that has been there for his entire coaching career.

"My family is very important, that's my life," said Herring. "I get up and go to work every morning for my wife and my kids. Everything I do is to make sure I provide for them. And that's one thing that is deeply rooted in me and that's my motivation."

Herring realizes what his wife and children have done for him. "When you look at a coach, the first thing you have to see is his family. You've got to look at the mother of the children because there is a tremendous amount of responsibility and pressure put on the wife to make up for the time that the father is not around because the job is so demanding. At times during the season and during recruiting, you lose touch with your children's lives.

"You have to have a strong character, a very forgiving, a very unselfish person, in your wife, who is devoted to the family and your children. I'm very fortunate to have that in my wife Lisa. I'm very proud of her and the way she's handled being a coaches' wife. Anybody that has survived through moves from Auburn, which was stable, to Texas Christian, which was a different environment; to be able to handle those moves, and to be able to say 'OK, wherever you say Reggie, I trust you. Here we go, I'll back you.' It takes a unique person. I have a tremendous amount of respect for any coaches' wife that has stuck with their husband."

Herring feels Clemson's family atmosphere makes for less stress on the family setting. "The best thing to do is to involve them (the family) as much as possible, and I think Coach West, being a family man himself, does a tremendous job of involving the family and making sure that they are a part of the process.

"That eases a lot of the stress in raising a family and being a football coach. It all starts at the top and the fires are put out from the head coach on down. There's no doubt that this is the best family environment that I've been around in my career, and I feel really fortunate to be here."

And his children? They are the best cheerleaders in the world, according their dad. "All they know is that they're Clemson Tigers and they're ready to battle anybody. There's a sense of closeness and support that is there, an undying, no-strings-attached support that is second to none from my children. They're great kids. It becomes as much a part of their lives as it does yours."

As mentioned before, there were a lot of Clemson assets that drew Herring to Clemson University, but first and foremost, it was the strength of the football program. "I think that Clemson has its own unique tradition with the 'rock' and 'running down the hill', and the people themselves, as far as wearing the sea of orange, showing that football is important to their lives."

As much as Coach Herring is a family man, he still understands what it is like to be a player on a national championship contender. "As far as a career standpoint, It is important to know that your teammates, your co-workers, and your student-athletes support you, admire you and your coaching philosophies, and want to work for you and with you. That is one of the things that this coaching staff is trying to get across to the players."

It is an axiom for success that Herring has held for a long time, an axiom he probably learned in his very first year of coaching under one of the most successful coaches in the business.

Reggie Herring gets outstanding support at home from his wife Lisa and children Caroline and Adam.

CLEMSON: EVER CHANGING...

A person with dark hair, wearing a bright red long-sleeved sweater and light blue trousers, is captured in the middle of a golf swing on a vibrant green grassy field. The person is holding a golf club with both hands, and their body is twisted in the follow-through position. A white golf ball sits on the grass near their feet. The background is a dense, sunlit green field.

The view from Cherry Road of the gently rolling hills overlooking Lake Hartwell is rapidly becoming a view of the gently rolling hills of a new 18-hole golf course due to open for play in the fall of 1995. Built as a complement to the new Continuing Education and Conference Center, it's destined to become one of the busiest and most public places on campus — and a magnet for scholarly conferences and executive education programs. Faculty, staff and students will have access to cutting-edge conferences right in their own back yard. The facilities at Clemson are ever changing...

STILL SOLID AS

THE ROCK

Traditions are something that don't happen overnight, they evolve over a number of years. One tradition at Clemson that is going strong and heading into its 61st year is IPTAY. The IPTAY Scholarship Foundation, is known throughout the country for its faithful and generous contributions by its supporters. A recent USA Today article called IPTAY the best-known organization of its kind in the nation. The article noted that at a time when college athletic costs are rising IPTAY continues to lead the way in supporting athletic scholarships at Clemson. IPTAY plays a major role in ensuring that all 19 of the varsity sports at Clemson are given the maximum amount of scholarships allowed by the NCAA.

IPTAY completed another record breaking year in 1993-94 when it went over the $6 million mark for the first time. The total number of members reached over 18,000. The Tiger Cub Club was also introduced for the first time, giving Clemson fans from birth to age 22 a chance to become involved in Tiger athletics.

Thanks to this support on the field, Clemson enjoyed another banner year in 1993-94. The program ranked 16th among all-around programs in the nation according to the Sears NACDA rankings, and had nine teams ranked among the top 25 in the respective final rankings. Clemson was especially successful in the Spring when the baseball, golf and track teams were all ranked among the top 11 in the nation. Clemson's traditional sports of football, basketball and baseball were also successful. Clemson and Florida were the only teams in the nation to win at least nine football games, 18 basketball games and 36 baseball games.

It was also a banner year academically. Soccer goal keeper Jaro Zawislanski was the recipient of the ACC's Jim Weaver Award as one of the outstanding all-around student-athletes in the league. In the Spring semester of 1994, 43 student athletes were on the dean's list and 14 had a perfect 4.0. Tiger football player Warren Forney was the recipient of Clemson's Algernon Sydney-Sullivan Award, which is given to a Clemson student for outstanding service to others.

IPTAY is recognized as one of the oldest, largest and most successful athletic fundraising organizations in America. IPTAY was the first athletic fundraising organization in the country to top the two, three, four, and five-million dollar marks in annual donations.

In 1934, Dr. Rupert Fike founded IPTAY with a very simple purpose in mind: IPTAY provides funds for athletic scholarships. Since 1934 IPTAY has certainly met Fike's goal, providing scholarships for over 5,000 student-athletes, trainers, and managers.

IPTAY currently provides the funds for tutorial programs staffed by trained academic advisors, assisted by graduate and undergraduate students. This support is intended to ensure that all student-athletes are given the opportunity to earn their degree while participating in athletics.

IPTAY donors have also played an intricate role in the "Campaign for Clemson", a long range fund-raising project of the University. The University's original goal of 62 million dollars was surpassed with the next goal of 78 million also being surpassed in the campaign that ended on June 30, 1992. IPTAY provided three million dollars with ongoing opportunities for donors to be part of the Vickery Hall Academic Learning Center.

Vickery Hall, located on East Campus, is a 27,000 square foot facility that houses the tutoring and advising programs for student-athletes. The building contains various-sized study and tutoring rooms used for individual study as well as small group instruction.

The generous support of loyal donors to IPTAY has allowed the organization to go beyond the funding of athletic scholarships by providing the financial basis for many of the unparalleled athletic facilities at Clemson.

Since 1978, IPTAY has provided the funding for $34 million of capital improvements in the area of athletics. These improvements include the expansion of the football stadium, the renovated baseball facility (Tiger Field), the outdoor track with new stadium facilities, the indoor tennis facility, the soccer stadium, the weight room, the new golf practice area, a new cross country course, and the IPTAY/Ticket office facility.

The facilities are among the best in the country, at least that must be the opinion of the NCAA. Over the last two years Clemson has played host to NCAA events in four different sports, including three in 1993-94.

IPTAY is also proud to provide the funding for Tiger Band. Each year IPTAY establishes financial support for travel, uniforms and equipment for this integral part of the Clemson athletic program.

While IPTAY is primarily concerned with athletic fundraising, the mission of Clemson University has not been overlooked. The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Endowment was created to help meet the need for more academic scholarships for non-athletes who are highly qualified academically. This scholarship endowment is funded by certain company gifts that are made as a result of employee contributions to IPTAY. In addition, the athletic department has made generous contributions to the endowment from athletic revenues.

The IPTAY Academic Fund is presently the largest scholarship endowment of its kind at Clemson providing $1.9 million in funds, currently benefiting more than 50 students. IPTAY's support extends to all of the student body.

The tremendous support of IPTAY is due, in large part, to the organizational makeup that allows donors to be as close to IPTAY as they are to their local IPTAY leadership. Each of South Carolina's 46 counties has an IPTAY County chairman, and every county is allotted an IPTAY representative for every 35 donors.

One important way IPTAY keeps in touch with its membership is the annual Clemson Club meeting held in April and May of each year. These meetings, which feature different coaches and administrators, are just one of the ways of making the local IPTAY members feel close to Clemson.

Clemson University will continue to be recognized and respected on the national level athletically and academically with the full support of IPTAY. IPTAY will continue to be successful because a loyal commitment to Clemson University is a way of life in the hearts of Clemson alumni and friends.

Tommy West spoke to a record 38 IPTAY meetings last spring. The organization is the reason Clemson offers a full complement of scholarships in each sport.

1995 Clemson Tiger Football Camps

The Clemson Tiger Football Camps are non-contact instructional camps. There are two camps to choose from. The Tiger Cub Camp is for boys in grades 4-8. The Tiger Camp is for boys in grades 9-12. Coach West and the entire coaching staff are camp instructors along with select high school coaches. Come be evaluated by the best! Emergency Services

The Clemson University Athletic Department provides the following for your safety and emergency medical needs:

1. Advanced cardiac life-support stations in four locations (North stands, Upper North deck, South stands, Upper South deck). These units are staffed with skill-care nurses, physicians, cardiologists, internists, paramedics, and EMTs.
2. Mobile units of EMTs and paramedics are strategically located throughout the entire stadium.
3. Ambulances with life-support equipment are available in North stand and South stand areas and have prearranged routes for evacuation to local hospitals.

Learn to recognize these personnel and facilities.

WHAT TO DO IF EMERGENCIES ARISE:

Please step back and give the organized EMS personnel room to work. Well-intentioned attempts to help by untrained persons interfere with the efficiency of the EMS system. If you have basic or advanced training in specific life-support methods, make your qualifications known and offer your help. Untrained personnel can frequently be more harmful than helpful.

Most emergencies occurring at the stadium result from pre-existing medical conditions. Bring your medical identification card or wear medical identification jewelry. Moderation is the key with dress, food, beverage intake, and physical exertion. The two most frequent medical problems at football games are allergic reactions to insect stings and heart attacks.

INSECT STINGS:

Common at outdoor events. Treat immediately with ice and seek medical advice. If allergic, carry a kit from your physician with you.

HOW TO RECOGNIZE A HEART ATTACK:

The symptoms of a heart attack vary, but the usual warning signs are:

1. Uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of your chest lasting for two minutes or more.

2. Pain spreading to the shoulders, neck, jaw, arms, or back.
3. Dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea, and/or shortness of breath.

EXPECT A DENIAL

Frequently heart attack victims deny they are having a heart attack. The event is frightening or they don't want the embarrassment of a false alarm. Therefore, they delay getting help by ignoring their symptoms or rationalizing, "It's just indigestion."

Find out what's really wrong. Prompt response can dramatically increase chances of survival and recovery.

New therapies have been developed that can minimize heart damage and save lives if treatment begins within the first few hours of symptom onset. "Time is muscle." Get help or get to a hospital immediately.

Donnell Woolford

By Tim Bourret

Bill Oliver had a special plan for Barry Switzer's Oklahoma Sooners. Clemson's defensive coordinator of the late eighties always had a special plan, it was one of the reasons Clemson was so successful on defense. The Tigers were playing the Sooners in the 1989 Citrus Bowl and Oliver was trying to devise a defense that would stop Switzer's famed Wishbone offense.

His overall defensive strategy was sound because the key player in its execution was All-America cornerback Donnell Woolford. This was Woolford's final game as a Tiger and he already was Clemson's career leader in pass deflections, and was among the best in interceptions and tackles by a defensive back. He was at the conclusion of a season in which he was a finalist for the Jim Thorpe Award and had made just about every All-America team in existence.

Still, one had to question Oliver's sanity...a defensive back, who specialized in guarding receivers was going to be the key to stopping the Wishbone?

Woolford was Clemson's best athlete and best open field tackler. Because Oklahoma seldomed threw the ball it was up to Woolford to act as a "Monster Man". That meant he was going to roam freely, cause chaos in the Oklahoma blocking scheme and make the tackle when necessary.

"I remember all the bowl games," said Woolford recently when asked about his Clemson career. "That Oklahoma game was memorable because I was the Monster Man, something that we had not done previously. I enjoyed it because I was free to roam inside and outside."

The strategy obviously was sound, as Clemson downed the 10th ranked Sooners 13-6, holding Oklahoma without a touchdown. It was one of only three games in the decade of the 1980s in which Oklahoma failed to score a touchdown.

"I really had a great time in those last three bowl games," said Woolford, who started Clemson's bowl victories over Stanford in 1986, Penn State in 1987 and finally Oklahoma at the end of the 1988 season, his senior year. "We worked very hard in the preparation for those games, but we had a good time too. We worked hard, yet it was fun."

A strong work ethic is something Woolford always had at Clemson and has taken with him to the NFL. "I learned discipline under Coach (Danny) Ford at Clemson. I learned about accepting responsibility on and off the field and it has helped me in the NFL. Your work ethic is very important."

Despite the work ethic and his two-time All-America credentials at Clemson, Woolford still had an adjustment period when he joined the Bears in 1989. "In college I could rely on my athletic ability. The adjustment I had to make was more mental than physical. There are more defenses to learn and different rules to deal with." This year

Former Tiger Donnell Woolford is regarded as one of the top cornerbacks in the NFL, as his trip to the Pro Bowl last February will attest.

NFL cornerbacks can't even touch the wide receiver once the wideout is five yards beyond the line of scrimmage.

Woolford started 11 games his rookie year, missing five due to injury, but he led the club with 19 passes defended and had 56 tackles. In 1990 he was having a strong season, but missed three games with a twisted knee, ironically suffered when former Tiger William Perry fell on his leg.

Woolford showed continued improvement in 1991 and 1992. He had another career high 77 tackles in 1991 with 19 passes defended. His 1992 season had All-Pro numbers; 27 passes defended, seven interceptions and 94 tackles, but he didn't make the Pro Bowl.

Then came last year when he posted 22 passes defended, 101 tackles and two interceptions. He led the club in passes defended and was fifth on the Bears in tackles. He intercepted only two passes, but his reputation now preceeded him, as quarterbacks avoided his side of the field.

At the end of the season he was rewarded with a ticket to Hawaii and the Pro Bowl. After an outstanding preseason of 1994, helping the Bears to a 4-0 record, the sky is the limit for the native of Fayetteville, NC. "We are all excited about what we can do in Chicago this year. We gained some confidence in the preseason and we have the playoffs as our goal."

Three weeks ago Bears Coach Dave Wannstedt didn't hesitate when he was asked who was the Bears' best player at his position. "Woolford, without a doubt. He made the Pro Bowl last year and deservedly so. He's had a fine camp and is off to that type of season."

Woolford has also received praise of late from the national media. In a recent broadcast when the Bears met the Giants, FOX Network analyst and former Oakland Raiders Coach John Madden said of Woolford, "He is one of the best in the game. He just doesn't give ground, he is just going to be on you every step of the way. You aren't going to fool Donnell Woolford. If I was the quarterback I would try another spot, especially when it comes to the big play. You aren't going to fake up and go long on Woolford."

Even with this type of praise, Woolford realizes he has to stay on his toes. Life in the NFL as a cornerback can be a stressful business, especially when you have to guard the opponent's top receiver every game. "There are a lot of tough guys to guard in this game. Jerry Rice is outstanding, but we have not played San Francisco that much since I have been here."

When the Bears meet the Packers, that means a battle of Pro Bowl players. Sterling Sharpe vs. Donnell Woolford, South Carolina vs. Clemson, the game within the game. "Sterling is one of the best in the league. When we are off the field we are buddies. But, when the game starts, it's a different story."

While Woolford has found a home as one of the Monsters of the Midway, he still finds time to follow the Tigers. When the Bears have an open date, Woolford can usually be found at Death Valley. When Tommy West had a reunion for all former Tigers last Spring, Woolford was one of the first arrivals.

"I've heard how tough the preseason camp has been," said Woolford. "I think Coach West is going to make Clemson a tough team. He is going to have them prepared. He is going to bring discipline to those players and they will be better off for it."

Donnell Woolford is one NFL player who takes pride in his school and has an appreciation for what it means to be a Clemson Tiger. When first asked about what he remembered most about playing for Clemson, he did not relate a story about a particular game or individual accomplishment. He simply stated, "Getting off that bus in Death Valley on Saturday afternoon. There is nothing like running down that hill with 80,000 screaming fans. It is something I will never forget."

Whether it be as a Monster Man or a cornerback, Clemson fans won't soon forget the contributions Donnell Woolford made to the Clemson football tradition.

When Woolford and Sharpe face each other, it's not only a battle between Clemson and South Carolina, but a battle of Pro Bowl performers.

TEXTILES AND EDUCATION

A Powerful Partnership For Progress

"Global competition and the explosive growth of manufacturing technology has challenged us to operate more efficiently to meet changing customer demands for quality and flexibility. Our present and future employees must have the reading, math and decision-making skills to keep us competitive, so we can provide secure jobs that create the standard of living people desire."

Robert W. Moser
President
South Carolina Textile Manufacturers Association

"Education cannot be the sole responsibility of public schools. Providing quality public schools is a shared responsibility of the entire community. Students must be active learners, and parents must participate in their children's education. Business and industry must be partners with public schools, and the community, as a whole, must become a community of learners who share the American Dream."

Thomas E. Kerns, Ed.D.
Retired Superintendent
Greenville County School District

South Carolina's Textile Industry... Leading The Way In Educating Our Citizens For Tomorrow's Workplace

- Adult Education

Textile companies are providing employees the resources to earn a high school diploma, or pass the GED equivalency test. Other programs are helping employees improve reading, math and computer skills.

- Governor's Initiative for Work Force Excellence

The industry is a major participant in this program designed to upgrade basic reading and math skills for undereducated employees.

- Business/Education Partnerships

These partnerships provide industry resources to enrich the educational experience of public school students. Programs include "adopt-a-school", tutoring, mentoring and workplace visits.

- Educational Contributions and Scholarships

Textiles spend over $20 million annually on education, including donations to schools and colleges, scholarships for college students including employees' children and tuition for employees' technical training.

- Legislative

As South Carolina's largest manufacturing employer, the textile industry actively supports full funding for the continuing improvement of the state's public school system.

SOUTH CAROLINA TEXTILE MANUFACTURERS ASSOCIATION

CLEMSON AND N.C. STATE

Leading The Way in Educating Future Textile Leaders

- The Textile Bowl football game, played annually between Clemson and North Carolina State, features two outstanding textile-oriented universities that offer nationally-recognized textile degree programs, from bachelor to doctoral.
- Together, they have graduated over 12,000 students in the textile career field, many of whom currently are making the American textile industry the most competitive and productive in the world.
- Both Clemson and North Carolina State are members of the National Textile Center, a research consortium of four universities, designed to improve the global competitiveness of the nation's textile enterprises (fiber, yarn, fabric, fabricated products) by providing a strong academic research base. Started in 1991, the program is funded by the U.S. Department of Commerce.
- Clemson's School of Textiles is generously supported by the J.E. Sirrine Textile Foundation. Established in 1948 by the South Carolina textile industry, the Sirrine Foundation annually provides grants for student scholarships as well as periodic grants to update the School's equipment and facilities.

Tiger Cub Club

The Perfect Gift For That Special Tiger Cub 'A Sustaining Membership'

The Tiger Cub Club Wall of Fame

The IPTAY Tiger Cub Club mural is a commissioned artwork created by Pendleton potter Rob Gentry.

IPTAY Tiger Cub Club

Post Office Box 1529 • Clemson, SC 29633-3529

Telephone # (803) 656-2115

8-24-83

The sustaining membership requires a one time contribution of $500.00. This entitles the member to a handcrafted Tiger Paw Commemorative Tile Plaque with his/her name and birthdate on it. The tile plaque will be placed on the Tiger Cub Club Wall of Fame which is located at the North Stands of Clemson Memorial Stadium.

The one time contribution of $500.00 will insure the Cub's membership until his/her 22nd birthday. The Cub will receive all rights and privileges received by those joining on an annual basis.

Special Recognition

$5000 FIKE Scholarship

Working With Nature To Create A Beautiful Environment... We Care.

Turf Energizer

The all organic, lawn and turf food. Enhances the natural growing cycle with slow-release nitrogen. Produces lush lawns and protects from certain patch diseases.

Ultra Soil

The highest grade professional mix of composted ingredients is made more efficient using the latest in soils technology. Space-aged materials are added to the soil to lengthen the watering cycle.

Nature Plus

The recycled soil, sold nationally in 1991, and the subject of Television, Newspaper, and Trade publication articles, is made from nutrient-rich composted yard waste, pine bark and wood fines. Nature Plus is a high quality potting mixture which provides for healthier plants and a cleaner environment.

Womack products available nationwide at finer lawn & garden centers.

Martin Color-Fi—An Investment in the Environment

Martin Color-Fi creates special fibers to spin a story of success. We custom manufacture fibers from both virgin and recycled materials, and then melt-dye them to match our customer's color choices. And we do it all within a maximum turnaround time of 30 days. What's more, our process helps America save natural resources and conserve space in rapidly diminishing landfills.

Martin Color-Fiber succeeds by making special fibers for today in a way that's responsive to customer needs and responsible to the environment. And any way you look at that, it's an investment in tomorrow.

Allens' Creations, Inc. - Frame and Art Gallery - is a locally owned and operated business, managed by Trent Allen (CU Class of '81). While in Clemson visit our gallery at 400-1 College Avenue - across from the Astro theatres.

Allens' Creations is proud to offer a variety of Clemson prints including "Indian Summer- Clemson University" by T. Green. Allens' Creations is also the exclusive source for the limited edition print "Clemson Legends." Each "Clemson Legends" print is hand autographed by Coach Howard, Danny Ford, Perry Tuttle, Steve Fuller, Jerry Butler, and Jeff Davis!

Brochures on these and other Clemson prints are available!

Clemson Diploma Framing

We now have on display over ten different diploma frame styles. Display your diploma with pride in a frame designed specifically for Clemson University graduates!

W E'RE PLEASED

TO REPORT THAT

OUR NEWEST

ENVIRONMENTAL

PROGRAM HAS

REALLY GOTTEN

OFF THE GROUND.

Today, in Clarendon County near upper Lake Marion, Laidlaw Environmental's commitment to the lasting glory of the natural world is taking wing.

In partnership with the South Carolina Waterfowl Association, we have restored a clay mine to create a premier Wetland Wildlife Education Management Center. Specially designed to showcase waterfowl in their own habitat, it will provide children and adults with a unique chance to better understand the beauty and responsibility of the world around them. And as home to a Clemson University study of plant and animal life on bottom-land hardwood forest, the center is a model for corporate environmental responsibility.

For all that changes in this world, one thing is certain: Nature must endure. At Laidlaw Environmental, we're doing our part to make that happen. For our state. For our children. For everyone.

Vickery Hall

Clemson University's commitment to provide its student-athletes with the very best of facilities is evident in many ways. From the soaring upper decks of Memorial Stadium, to the state-of-the-art strength training facility, young men and women from all 19 of Clemson's varsity sports have the very best in facilities for training and competition. Vickery Hall is no exception, as the $3 million structure is as impressive aesthetically as any of the other facilities. But the importance of Vickery Hall to the Clemson University Athletic Department is not found in the structure itself, but in the many programs that the building houses.

Vickery Hall opened in the spring of 1991 and is the first facility in the nation originally constructed for the purposes of meeting the comprehensive needs of student-athletes. The two-story, 27,000-square-foot building is open throughout the day and into the evening to accommodate the extended schedules of student-athletes, and consolidates a variety of academic services for their use.

The philosophy behind Vickery Hall is to provide the Clemson student-athlete with a program that will meet his or her needs academically, in personal growth and development, and with career assistance. Vickery Hall is tangible evidence that, at Clemson, the athletic department has made a commitment to make the student-athlete's total experience a rewarding one, even after he or she enters the professional world.

"Vickery Hall is one of the most important facilities the Clemson University Athletic Department has ever built or will ever build. It makes a philosophical statement about the institutional commitment - giving our student-athletes the same opportunity to achieve their full potential academically that we give them athletically. We're very serious about that," said Athletic Director Bobby Robinson.

Given the time pressures of athletic participation and practice, student athletes face a difficult balancing act in trying to perform well both on the playing field and in the classroom. With respect to this, Clemson's Student-Athlete Enrichment Services (SAES), has provided one of the best academic support and advising programs in the nation over the last several years. The completion of Vickery Hall gives SAES an even greater opportunity to help student-athletes reach the short-term goal of graduation and the long-term goal of success in the world. The facility is open throughout the day and into the evening to accommodate the extended schedules of the student-athlete.

Vickery Hall is located in the mainstream of east campus, behind Jordan Hall at the top of Bryan Mall. The main entrance to the building is a 1,570-square foot reception/office area, comprised of five advisers' offices, two graduate student offices, and a conference room. Also located on the bottom floor is the office of Bill D'Andrea, the director of Clemson's student-athlete enrichment program.

Vickery Hall operates under the guidelines and policies of the university and the center's staff adheres strictly to the rules and ethical conduct standards of the university. In addition to the director, the staff also consists of six full-time advisers, two graduate assistants, and 50 tutors.

The building also boasts a 175-seat auditorium to be used for classes, team meetings, review sessions, and seminars. The various speakers and lecturers who come to work with Clemson student-athletes as part of the student-enrichment program also use this facility. The auditorium is equipped with a projection booth and state-of-the-art audio and video equipment and will be available to other campus groups when not in use by Student-Athlete Enrichment.

Another area of the main floor, the computer resources area, consists of a general computer tutoring room and a computer science tutoring room. The computer room contains 30 personal computers for hands-on computer tutoring, word processing and other general uses.

The 13,000-square-foot study and tutoring area on the second floor comprises the majority of the center. This area contains 11 classrooms and 28 tutorial rooms, including a large 65-seat study room and nine 20-seat study rooms, which are designed as classrooms with freestanding desks.

The Department of Student-Athlete Enrichment Services has recognized the need for students to have access to high-quality computing equipment and has made a commitment to providing the student-athletes at Clemson with such equipment.

Located on the first floor of Vickery Hall is the Department of Student-Athlete Enrichment Services Microcomputer Laboratory. The lab is open six days a week, for 16 hours a day on Monday through Thursday.

The lab staff consists of mostly graduate students, many of whom are pursuing advanced degrees in computer science. Lab staff members are available for tutoring of any Computer Science course as well as the many management, engineering and business courses that deal with personal computers. Student-athletes may also arrange tutoring sessions outside normal lab hours any time during the school year.

Computers in the lab can reach many of the other machines on campus, including the NAS mainframe, and are in turn, connected to a world-wide internetwork, allowing lab machines to access computing resources throughout the world. This also allows access to lab resources from computers throughout the world.

The Dick Hendley Computer Room is one of many outstanding aspects of Vickery Hall, Clemson's state-of-the-art Academic Learning Center.

Today as the Clemson Tigers encounter the N.C. State Wolfpack in the annual Textile Bowl, we salute the two universities for the difference each school has made in the textile industry. Both have produced qualified professionals and valuable research in the field and are known throughout the southeast for their outstanding textile programs. The American people are aware now, more than ever, of the impact the textile industry has on the economy. Today we salute Clemson and N.C. State for their contributions to this tradition of excellence.

Another important part of Clemson tradition is the Clemson University Tiger Band, "The Band that Shakes the Southland." Known for its precision marching, dynamic sound, and famous Clemson spirit, the band performs at all Clemson football games, both home and away.

Tiger Band has performed at more than just Clemson football games over the years, especially recently. The group has performed at professional football games and was the first college marching band in history to perform at a NASCAR Winston Cup Series event when it performed in the opening ceremonies of the 1993 Hooters 500 race at the Atlanta Motor Speedway.

Tiger Band's traditional sideline entrance today is marked by the sound of the famous "Sock It To 'Em/Tiger Rag." Tiger fans everywhere begin to feel excitement in the air as another Clemson tradition is continued.

Attention is then directed to the 25 yard line where Robert W. Moser, President of the South Carolina Textile Manufacturers Association in 1994-95 will have the honor of dotting the "i" in Tigers. Today marks the 15th time that Clemson and N.C. State have played for the Textile Bowl Trophy.

Pregame festivities continue with one of John Phillip Sousa's most renowned marches, "Washington Post." The colors will be presented by the Clemson University Pershing Rifles Company C4. Everyone then stands and joins Tiger Band, under the direction of Dr. Mark Hosler, to honor America in singing "God Bless America."

The invocation will be delivered and the crowd will then be asked to join in the Pledge of Allegiance, and the singing of our National Anthem, conducted by Clemson University Director of Bands, Dr. Richard Goodstein. Tiger Band will then invite all to join in the singing of the Clemson University Alma Mater.

The band will then play "Sock it to 'Em/Tiger Rag" as they march to the east end of Memorial Stadium to form the tunnel for the players to run through as they take part in the greatest stadium entrance in sport. The cannon booms, the team rubs Howard's Rock and then charges down the hill before a packed house in Death Valley.

Today's halftime show is entitled "Elvis-A Salute to the King." The Tiger Band salutes the "King of Rock 'n Roll," Elvis Pressley. Halftime selections include: "Heartbreak Hotel," "C.C. Rider," Tiger Band issues a salute to Elvis Pressley during today's halftime presentation.

Clemson Alma Mater

Where the Blue Ridge yawns its greatness

Where the Tigers play
Here the sons of dear old Clemson,
Reign supreme alway.

Chorus

Dear old Clemson, we will triumph
And with all our might
That the Tigers' roar may echo
O'er the mountain height.

"Jailhouse Rock," "Don't Be Cruel," "Blue Suede Shoes," "Hound Dog," and "I Can't Help Falling In Love."

Drum Majors are an integral part of Tiger Band. They act as field conductors during performances and serve as field assistants during rehearsals helping to correct individual errors and style problems. Auditions are held at the end of each football season for the position of Drum Major for the following year.

Tiger Band is led this year by Drum Majors Lawanda Curry, Tracy Dean, and Caroline Godbey. Dr. Mark Hosler, marching band director, describes the Drum Major position as one of importance. "They are three of the most important people on the field. The band depends on them to start and conduct the performances with accuracy."

Curry is in her second year as a Drum Major and her fourth year as a Tiger Band member. A native of Hartwell, GA and a graduate of Hart County High School, she is a junior majoring in Parks, Recreation, and Tourism Management.

Dean is from Loganville, GA and is a graduate of South Gwinnett High School. This is her first appointment as Drum Major, but her second year as a member of Tiger Band. She is a sophomore majoring in Biological Sciences/Pre-Medicine.

Godbey is in her second year as a Drum Major, and her third year as a band member. She is a native of Alexandria, Virginia and a graduate of West Potomac High School. She is a junior majoring in English.

The Tiger Band staff includes Dr. Mark Hosler, marching band director, Dr. Rick Goodstein, director of university bands, Cheryl Hosler, Flag Line Instructor, and Hazel Martin, Twirler Instructor.

On this day as we pay tribute to the textile industry and the traditions of excellence at Clemson and N.C. State, we also salute Tiger Band for the outstanding job they do for Clemson, not just on Saturdays in the fall, but all year long.

Caroline Godbey, Lawanda Curry and Tracy Dean are the Drum Majors for 1994.

TEXTILE BOWL

CLEMSON VS NORTH CAROLINA STATE

The Textile Bowl matches up two great universities in the Carolinas, North Carolina State and Clemson. Each is nationally recognized for outstanding athletics as well as programs in textile education and training. The Carolina textile industry is proud of both of these fine schools, their faculty, their students and their alumni, many of whom currently serve the industry in various management capacities.

The industry is not only committed to higher education in both states but also to a better way of life for its many employees and their families. The plants in North and South Carolina produce almost half of America's textiles and provide good job opportunities in a modern environment for today's young men and women.

The textile industry is also proud of its reputation as a good Carolina citizen. The industry provides needed tax dollars along with grants to the arts, hospitals, libraries and human service organizations as well as higher education, reflecting its sense of corporate responsibility.

Textiles and the Carolinas...partners for better products and a better way of life for everyone.

Tigers in Coaching

By Bob Bradley

Something occurred in Clemson football last season that had never happened. And this season, this happening has been repeated the first two games of the 1994 campaign. The oddity is that a Clemson graduate has brought his own Division I-A team into Death Valley to face the Tigers. A number of times Tiger alumni have faced their alma mater as an assistant coach, but never as the head man.

The first one to have this distinction was Thomas Michael (Mike) O'Cain of N. C. State and he is making a repeat performance today. The other alum, Robert Alan (Bobby) Johnson, revisited his collegiate stomping ground last Saturday in the season opener as head coach of Furman.

Mike, who lettered at Clemson in 1974-75-76 as a quarterback and was named team MVP and captain his senior year, actually got his college coaching career started with the Tigers when he served as a graduate assistant with the running backs in 1977.

Mike came back to Clemson the following season as the offensive backfield coach of The Citadel when the Bulldogs came to town. Altogether, the Orangeburg native faced Clemson seven times as an N. C. State assistant, three of them in 'The Valley.'

He brought his 24th-ranked Wolfpack into Clemson last year in his first year as the head coach at State, succeeding Dick Sheridan, who had abruptly resigned earlier. Mike became the only first-year head coach in the nation to take his team to a post-season bowl game, facing Michigan in the Hall of Fame tilt in Tampa after the '93 regular season.

Johnson played for the Tigers in 1970-71-72 and graduated with a BS degree in management in 1973, four years before O'Cain earned his degree in recreation and park administration. Johnson was in industry from 1974 to 1976, but joined the Furman staff in time for the '76 season. Three times (1979-88-

89) he returned to 'The Valley' as a Paladin assistant, the last two times as defensive coordinator.

But in between that last trip as an assistant in '89 and the one as head coach last Saturday with Furman, he rejoined the ranks on the Clemson staff as coach Ken Hatfield's defensive coordinator in '93. The Tigers were among the top 15 teams in the nation in terms of scoring defense.

Like O'Cain succeeding Sheridan, Johnson was the overwhelming choice to be the new Paladin head coach replacing Jim Satterfield when he stepped aside. When Johnson was offered the opportunity to have his own team, he jumped on it like a chicken on a june bug.

O'Cain and Johnson were teammates at Clemson during the 1972 season, which was Mike's freshman year, and the first year frosh could play varsity ball. However, Mike did not get in a game, as Ken Pengitore was running the show for Coach Hootie Ingram. Then, in 1973, he was red-shirted under Coach Red Parker when Pengitore was a senior and Bobby finished up his career in the Tiger secondary.

In 1974, when Mark Fellers was the starter, O'Cain grabbed enough attention against Georgia Tech and Georgia on back-to-back Saturdays to earn the Atlantic Coast Conference Rookie-of-the-Week honors, accounting for three touchdowns against the two teams.

O'Cain's best year, yardage-wise, was in 1975 when Willie Jordan was doing most of the signal calling. O'Cain was forced to miss quarterbacking against Wake Forest and Duke because of injuries and only held for placements. But he finished strong, accounting for all eight of his touchdowns in the final three games, and 943 yards on the year.

Although he played in Steve Fuller's shadow in 1976, O'Cain still managed to account for over 600 yards of total offense, giving him over 1,800 for his career. One game that season still stands out in his mind—against the team he is now coaching. It was a loss to the Wolfpack. O'Cain gained 140 yards rushing, which are the most ever for a Tiger quarterback in a game.

Coming back to Clemson again—and again—"still gives me chills. Hearing the band play (Tiger Rag) and seeing the Tigers come down the hill certainly brings back memories," O'Cain says. "It's hard to spend as much time there as I did and not feel a little of that."

Both O'Cain and Johnson had a running start on getting ready for their coaching assignment against Clemson this year. Johnson and his staff had the entire summer to prepare for last Saturday's game and O'Cain opened his season Thursday a week ago against Bowling Green and now has had nine days for "Thinking Tigers."

It's funny how the old adage of 'what goes around comes around' fits an occasion. Although both never coached together, their counterparts have been entwined from time to time for years.

Both Dick Sheridan and Jim Satterfield were on the same staff at Eau Claire High School in Columbia. Sheridan went to Orangeburg-Wilkinson High School and there O'Cain was his quarterback. Then Sheridan and Satterfield ended up at Furman together. When Sheridan went to N. C. State to be head coach, Satterfield took his place at Furman. And Sheridan hired O'Cain from East Carolina to be his quarterback coach.

Art Baker (now at South Carolina) was another on the Eau Claire staff with Sheridan and Satterfield. Baker was the one who first hired Johnson at Furman in 1976 as well as Sheridan. Baker was on the Clemson staff when Johnson came to Clemson as a freshman (1968). When Sheridan went to N. C. State in 1986, Satterfield got the Furman head job and kept Johnson on the staff. The only time Johnson has not been on the Paladin staff since 1976 was in 1980, when he returned to Clemson for one year to be academic advisor, and in 1993 as defensive coordinator.

Among former Tiger players now assistant coaches are Chris Lancaster (Baylor), Rickey Bustle (South Carolina), James Earle (Clemson), Buddy King (Arkansas), Dan Pearman (Alabama), and Arlington Nunn (Baylor). J.D. Haglan is the head coach at Catawaba and Geoff Ciniero is the head man at Gallaudet, a school for the deaf in Washington, DC. We documented his career in this publication last year.

The coaching profession moves fast sometimes. Nobody knows that better than the coaches themselves. After 50 years without a Clemson grad coaching in Death Valley, we might have a bunch return to the valley in the next few years.

O'Cain is the only former Tiger who is directing a Division I program. He was Clemson's MVP in 1976.
